NEW HURRICANE PLOWS TOWARD GULF STATES

THOUSANDS EVACUATED

Florida, Alabama, Louisiana Menaced By Fierce Storm

New Orleans (AP) — Hurricane Ethel howled across the Gulf of Mexico toward Pensacola, Fla., early Thursday with its 150 mile-an-hour winds scheduled to strike the upper Florida coast first.

Twelve-foot tides rolled along with the storm and hasty evacuations of coastal lowlands continued through the night.

At midnight (CST), Ethel was 50 miles east of the mouth of the Mississippi River and 125 miles south southwest of Mobile, Ala., and Pensacola, 60 miles to the east.

A squall separated from the main storm to head into the mouth of the Mississippi, Coast Guard radar reported.

The U.S. Weather Bureau revised its estimate of Ethel's size — cutting it to 100 miles.

Entire Gulf

Tides of 4 to 8 feet looked likely for the entire gulf coast from Grand Isle, La., to St. Marks, Fla.

Ethel pushed high tides along the gulf coast 3 to 6 feet above normal. The advisory said tides would continue to rise and reach 5 to ten feet along the northwest Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and extreme southeast Louisiana coasts.

The advisory also advised that heavy rains up to 6 inches would spread throughout northwest Florida and parts of Alabama and Georgia Thursday.

Threat Shifts

The Weather Bureau removed the threat of serious flooding along the seawall restricting Lake Pontchartrain on the north edge of New Orleans. With the center of the storm moving away from the city, the bureau said would not appear advisable to evacuate the area, where many of the city's costliest homes are located.

Evacuees streamed out of the areas in the storm's path.

All motels and hotels in Hattiesburg, Miss., 75 miles north of the gulf coast, were reported full. Hattiesburg police appealed through radio and television stations for people with extra bedrooms to make them available to the evacuees.

Motels and hotels as far north as Jackson — 200 miles from the coast — were jammed.

Civil Defense headquarters in the Biloxi and Gulfport, Miss., area opened 10 schools as evacuation centers.

In New Orleans, 14 schools opened to take care of the flood of persons who left their homes in the Louisiana lowlands.

Extremely Dangerous

Reports indicated preparations underway along the extreme northwest tip of Florida "are not as extensive nor proceeding as rapidly as warranted by the urgency of the threat from this extremely dangerous hurricane," the Weather Bureau added.

Hurricane preparations and evacuations from areas affected by predicted 10-foot tides should be rushed to completion, the Miami Bureau said. It pointed out there wouldn't be time Thursday morning.

PROPOSED APARTMENT . . . in 8.3 acre plot bounded by Cotner, Vine and No. 60th.

$1 Million Apartment Development At Cotner And Vine Wins Approval

By Nancy Ray

A million-dollar garden apartment development at Cotner and Vine Sts. received approval Wednesday from the City-County Planning Commission.

The 104-apartment complex will be located south of Vine and west of Cotner, and east of 60th, in a triangular tract owned by Strauss Brothers Construction Co.

By a 5-2 vote and against the recommendation of the Planning Director Douglas Brogden, the tract owned by Strauss was changed from single family zoning to multiple dwelling zoning to pave the way for the construction.

James Strauss told board members that the proposed construction should be underway by late fall, about Nov. 15.

Each unit in the garden apartment will have its own balcony overlooking landscaped sections of the development, according to Lloyd J. Marti, attorney who presented the plot plan to the planning board.

Of the 104 units, 72 will be one-bedroom and the rest 2-bedroom units. Rentals will range from $90 to $130, Strauss said.

The apartments will be of stone and frame construction with carports and parking areas to accommodate more than 150 cars.

Brogden opposed the zoning change because of its effect on adjacent single family houses, possible congestion of arterial streets and other factors.

He said that there was sufficieint land already zoned for apartment dwellings, but proponents of the zoning change challenged the statement, saying that no land east of 27th and south of X was available to serve the growing area with apartment-type housing.

The apartment court is planned in a 5-unit semicircle of one, 2 and 3-story buildings facing a terraced and landscaped area stretching to Cotner Blvd. Spaces for carports and parking are planned at the back of the buildings with drive entrances to Vine and No. 60th Sts.

Plots Approved

The board also approved 4 other final and preliminary plats following recommendation for approval from Brogden. They were:

—Lazy Acres, a 20-acre replat located about 2 miles south of Lincoln on U.S. 77, across the highway from Lincoln Memorial Park. Preliminary plat calls for 18 tracts of one acre or more in size.

—Randolph Terrace 4th addition, located between Randolph and F Sts. at 38th. Final plat.

—Whittman's Cotner Heights First addition, a replat located on Peggy Circle and Cleveland St. Final and preliminary plat.

—Brandt's Replat between 56th and 57th, P to R Sts.

Action on the application of the S.O.S Corporation for a waiver of lot area and side requirements to construct a 12-story apartment building at 13th and J was deferred.

Ruling Congo Army May Oust Commies

London (AP) — Brazzaville radio Thursday quoted the new ruling Congo army regime as saying it will oust Soviet and satellite missions from the Congo.

It reported the strongman, Col. Joseph Mobutu, said the Leopoldville embassies of the Communist countries are being placed under military guard in a preliminary to expulsion of the diplomats.

The military guard is being posted at the embassies to confine the personnel—less than a day after Mobutu, an adherent of Congo President Joseph Kasavubu announced in Leopoldville his takeover of power until the conflict between Kasavubu and Patrice Lumumba is settled.

The Kasavubu government has fired Lumumba with the contention that he accepted Soviet and other Communist aid outside the channels of the United Nations and was driving the Congo to the Soviet bloc.

The Brazzaville broadcast came from a station across the Congo River from Leopoldville in the former French Congo and was monitored in Britain.

It said Mobutu announced his plans to seize and oust the Communist diplomats at a news conference in Leopoldville's Hotel Regina.

All Reds Out

In Brussels early Thursday the Belgian foreign office said it had been advised that Mobutu had said every Russian and Czech adviser in the Congo would be thrown out.

The report from Brazzaville came shortly after word from Leopoldville said 5 Russian transporrt planes being flown to the Congo to assist Lumumba have turned back toward the Soviet Union.

The control of the Congo's airports by the U.N. was believed to have persuaded the Soviet Union it was futile to add to the 10 grounded planes already supplied to Lumumba.

Lumumba's whereabouts were not known in Leopoldville, but one unconfirmed report there said he was fleeing to his old home town of Stanleyville.

'Soviet Missile Feat In Offing'

Washington (UPI) — Russia has deployed missile-monitoring ships in both the Atlantic and Pacific in a move that could signal an attempt at a spectacular space feat during Nikita Khrushchev's United Nations visit next week.

The Navy announced the presence of the electronically-equipped Soviet ships in both oceans Wednesday amid increasing belief that the Russians were preparing for a dazzling space-missile experiment in connection with Khrushchev's arrival.

Speculation as to the type of Russian feat that might be in the offing ranged from a new Soviet long-range missile firing to an attempt to fire a man into space and bring him back.

But Rep. James M. Quigley, D-Pa., a member of the House Space Committee, noted that "3 times in recent history Russian space exploits have preceded important tours by Soviet personalities."

Just before Khrushchev's U.S. tour a year ago, the Soviets hit the moon with a rocket. He brought along for President Eisenhower a replica of the Communist emblem that the rocket deposited on the moon.

The Navy said a Soviet tanker, equipped with a helicopter and electronic gear, and a tug have been spotted in the North Central Atlantic. It did not say how far the vessels were from the Soviet liner bringing Khrushchev and other Communist leaders here. Khrushchev is due to arrive in New York Monday.

The Navy also said that 3 ships, electronically equipped and carrying helicopters, are moving across the Central Pacific toward the area where the Russians have fired intercontinental missiles on two occasions this year.

The Navy said the ships in the Atlantic could be used to track missile or space shots. In the past, the Russians warned shipping well in advance when it was preparing for long-range missile shots.

Conrad Support Seems Sufficient For Demo Senatorial Nomination

By Don Walton

It appeared Wednesday night that Robert Conrad has sufficient support within the Democratic state central committee to be named Thursday night as his party's candidate for the U.S. Senate.

The committee will meet in Grand Island to choose a successor to the late Gov. Ralph G. Brooks, whose death last week removed him from the Senate race.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Yancey Hotel.

Strong support was also being generated behind Clair Callan, who ran second to Gov. Brooks in the May senatorial primary race.

Still a possibility was Mrs. Darleene Brooks, the governor's widow.

Finigan Out

State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan removed his name from speculation Wednesday. He said he will support the party's nominee "whoever he is."

Also out of the picture is State Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora, whose candidacy ran into a legal barrier.

Others have been mentioned, but none have the strength to challenge the front-runners.

Asked if he would accept the nomination, Conrad told The Star: "The Democratic Party has never found me unwilling to assume any responsibility."

Callan has already taken his candidacy to committee members via telegram.

Mrs. Brooks remains silent.

Callan Backed

Meanwhile, gubernatorial nominee Frank Morrison suggested by telephone from Hastings:

"I said once before that this is exclusively a matter for the state central committee. However, if I were on the committee, I would vote for Mr. Callan."

Contacted by telephone, National Committeeman Bernard Boyle and State Chairman Russell Hanson declined to publicly take sides.

Boyle did say this:

"We need a man with the ability to carry to the people the deficiencies of (Republican Sen. Carl Curtis, and the manner in which he has failed agricultural interests.

"He needs thorough knowledge; he should speak well; he must be aggressive, and it would be well if he had a wide acquaintance throughout the state."

Although they did not say so, both Boyle and Hanson are believed to support Conrad.

Active Part Planned

Gov. Brooks is known to have made preparations prior to his death for Conrad to have taken an active speaking role in behalf of the governor during the senatorial campaign.

Conrad had already made one such speech before the governor died.

The governor's administrative assistant and a full partner in his administration, Conrad was also Gov. Brooks' personal choice for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination last May.

Callan ran a close second to the governor in the Senate primary battle.

The Odell businessman has told committee members that he believes he can with their help defeat Curtis, and that his name may be of aid to the party ticket.

Clothing Of A. Coors III Discovered

ADOLPH COORS III

Denver (AP)—The clothing of missing industrialist Adolph Coors III and human bones have been found strewn about a remote hillock in the Rocky Mountain foothills, the FBI disclosed Wednesday.

Coors, 44, vanished while driving to work at the big Adolph Coors Co. brewery in nearby Golden the morning of Feb. 9.

Relatives and officers expressed belief he was kidnaped.

Bloodstained

His bloodstained shirt and all other clothing he was wearing the day he disappeared were found last Sunday in the rock-studded area 45 miles southwest of here.

A member of the Coors family has identified the clothing and other personal items.

A pathologist has identified the bones as those of an adult male about 6 feet tall. Coors was about six-one.

No Skull

Officers scoured the area Wednesday for other items which might shed light on the mystery. The skull portion of the remains so far has not been recovered. Neither has a billfold been found.

Officers said Coors' shirt bore bloodstains. They said his light jacket appeared to have been removed from the body without being unzipped.

Scott Warner, head of the FBI here, said the clothing was discovered last Sunday by Edward Green, an Englewood, Colo., truck driver who went to the area to shoot targets with a pistol.

Among the items Green found was a silver pocket knife bearing the initials AC III.

Green said he was familiar with the Coors case and recognized the importance of his discovery.

He returned to the Denver area and reported his findings to Charles Riddle, an Englewood policeman. Riddle in turn called the FBI.

Riddle said the area where the clothing and bones were found is about 8 miles southwest of a tiny community known as Sedali, on the Denver-to-Colorado Springs highway. The items were found near the top of a steep hill.

On Dump Road

About 100 yards away is a dirt road used by residents in the area to reach a dump. The road rarely is used by persons other than residents.

Werner said the bones have been turned over to the Douglas County Coroner.

Coors' station wagon was found more than two hours after he left for work Feb. 9, the engine still running and the radio playing. It was near a bridge crossing a creek two miles from his ranch home near Morrsion, southwest of Denver.

Blood smears were found on the back of the front seat and on the railing of the bridge. A baseball-type cap Coors was wearing and his eye glasses were found by the stream below the bridge.

Red Congo Attack Hits U.N. Chief

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union denounced Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Wednesday night as the willing tool of Western imperialists trying to reimpose colonialism on the Congo.

The United States rallying immediately to Hammarskjold's defense, charged the Russians with "deliberate and malicious distortion" of fact and attempts to subvert the new African republic.

Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, delivered the attack on Hammarskjold in a blistering 74-minute speech to the U.N. Security Council.

U.S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth declared in a statement outside the Council that the Soviet Union has deliberately intervened in the Congo's internal affairs in flagrant defiance of Security Council resolutions. He called Zorin's statement "arrogant and hypocritical."

Replying to the Soviet charges, Hammarskjold said he would leave it up to the African peoples to decide whether he was a tool of imperialism in the Congo. He said the Soviet Union apparently had taken on the role as spokesman for the African nations, but he was sure the African peoples would form their own opinion of his role.

Obviously angered by the Soviet attack, Hammarskjold declared "my record is on the table of the Security Council and of the United Nations with such completeness there is no need for me to add to it. I stand by it."

He charged the Soviet Union with presenting a case against him that was incomplete and not in accord with the facts.

Mongi Slim of Tunisia, only African nation on the council, praised Hammarskjold's "devotion to duty and impartiality," and called for continuation of the U.N. efforts to keep the Congo from becoming a cold war arena.

After hearing Slim the council adjourned until Thursday.

U.N. diplomats said it was an unprecedented attack upon a U.N. Secretary-General — even exceeding the blasts by the Russians against Hammarskjold's predecessor, Trygve Lie.

AF Finds 'Lost' Space Capsule

Vandenburg Air Force Base, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force failed Wednesday to catch a parachuting space capsule on the fly but reported later that the space package was sighted in the sea.

The Air Force said the capsule, parachuted from the orbiting Discoverer XV satellite, was sighted by plane about 200 miles northwest of Christmas Island and 800 to 1,000 miles southwest of the Hawaiian Islands.

An Air Force spokesman said an amphibious plane was expected to land on the scene Thursday to recover the capsule.

Ike To Speak Before Nikita Addresses U.N.

Travel Ban Is Clamped On Castro

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower, in a switch in plans, will speak before the United Nations Assembly Thursday of next week.

That is the day before Russia's Nikita S. Khrushchev is scheduled to make his widely heralded U.N. speech.

Eisenhower's visit raised the prospect the two world leaders would confront each other silently just about a hundred feet apart. As chief of the Soviet government delegation, Khrushchev presumably will sit with delegates of 82 other nations as Eisenhower speaks from the stage in the blue-domed Assembly chamber.

Barring a sudden easing of East-West tension, officials said the President has no thought even of shaking hands with the Soviet premier during his brief visit.

Castro Can't Roam

In another development bearing on the General Assembly session which opens next Tuesday, the United States announced that Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro will be under the same travel restructions as Khrushchev when he attends the sessions.

Khrushchev and Castro, as well as the delegation chiefs of Communist Hungary and Albania, will be restricted to Manhattan Island. The Russians have protested bitterly against the restrictions, which this country says are required to assure the safety of the men concerned.

Eisenhower's move appeared geared to an administration drive to prevent the resourceful Khrushchev from becoming the star attraction without a Western leader of comparable stature presenting the case for the free world in the same setting.

Macmillan May Come To U.S.

London (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan announced Wednesday night that foreign Secretary Lord Home will speak for Britain at the U.N. General Assembly and indicated he too may speak if conditions are right.

Macmillan returned from a Scottish holiday and went into conference with Lord Home.

With President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev now booked to speak it was evident that Macmillan did not want to close any doors on himself.

Falls City Hospital Records Best Year

Falls City (UPI) — Community Hospital has completed its best year in the 5 years it has been a community project, according to the board of trustees.

The board said the hospital, which was purchased by the citizens of Falls City from the Sisters of Charity in 1955, netted $17,423 during the 1959-60 fiscal period. This was a 40% gain over the previous year.

University of Nebraska freshmen Jerry Kalina of Ralston and Larry Huigens of Rushville, meet University officials at the annual Chancellor's Reception in the Student Union Wednesday night. Receiving students from the left are Mrs. Clifford Hardin, Chancellor Hardin and Mary Ann Harris, Mortar Board president. Chancellor Hardin will also address a new student convocation in the Coliseum at 8:30 a.m. Thursday. Other convocations and orientation sessions follow on Friday, with a dance in the Student Union at 8 p.m. concluding the freshmen activities.

Sheet Metal Men Idle As Contract Runs Out Here

Some 85 members of the Sheet Metal Workers Union Local 541 have been observing a "no contract, no work" schedule since Sunday, it was reported Wednesday.

A spokesman said the contract expired Sunday, and no sheet metal work has been done in Lincoln since.

It was reported the workers, currently receiving $3 an hour, want a pay increase.

Fizz Powell, business representative of the union, said the present $3-an-hour wage is 71c under the national average as of July, 1959.

It was reported that workers want, in addition to the pay increase, fringe benefits, including paid vacation. Management's last offer was reported turned down Sunday.

Blair Selected As President Of McDonald Firm

Hastings (AP) — Charles E. Blair was elected president of the J. M. McDonald Co. at a board of directors' meeting Wednesday, J. M. McDonald Jr., chairman of the board, announced.

Blair, who has been senior vice president in charge of finances and real estate, succeeds the late Byron Hooper. Hooper died several weeks ago shortly after being named president of the firm.

The directors also elected Harry Freed to the board of directors to fill a vacancy and named him secretary-treasurer. Freed has been assistant secretary and treasurer.

JACKSON CALLS FOR EXPOSURE

. . . Of 'Anti' Material

Washington (AP) — The Democratic national chairman charged Wednesday that the mails are being flooded with anti-Catholic literature in a plot to defeat John F. Kennedy for President.

The chairman, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, urged that newsmen track down the source.

Saying he has indirect information, but refusing to say what it was, Jackson told a news conference:

"I'll give you a little clue. You might ask Dr. Peale who prepared his statement."

This referred to a statement issued last Wednesday after a meeting of 150 Protestant ministers and laymen in Washington, presided over by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York minister, author and columnist.

The statement said any Roman Catholic President would be under pressure from the hierarchy of his church, and might not be able to stand firm against the pressure.

The group of ministers, issuing the statement as its collective own, described itself as the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom.

Negro Voters Pushed

New York (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced a national crusade to register 1,000,000 new Negro voters before the November election. It will be conducted through Negro churches and racial organizations.

Beermann Asks Tolerance In 3rd Dist. Race

Dakota City — Ralph F. Beermann, Republican, has voiced a strong plea for tolerance in the Third District race for Congress.

Beermann said he had been told by his opponent, Democrat Larry Brock of Wakefield, that someone was tearing down Brock posters.

"I don't believe it is my workers," Beermann said, "since they are specifically instructed to respect campaign literature. But sometimes folks get a little too enthusiastic, and if that's the case then I insist that they stop."

Beermann said the right to campaign is free speech guaranteed under the Constitution.

"And while I may differ with Congressman Brock on issues, I certainly don't want his constitutional rights impaired. I want to preserve the Constitution, not destroy it," Beermann added.

BONN AIMS TRADE BLOW

Berlin (AP) — West Germany Wednesday ordered its first trade sanctions against the Communists for their squeeze on Berlin. The big Western powers also planned new counter blows.

Ignoring Communist threats, a cabinet meeting in Bonn announced that the West German government would prevent its citizens from visiting the Leipzig Fair next spring. This event, nearly 800 years old, is a big mart and showplace for East-West trade and takes place twice a year.

76 Survive Airliner's Flip-Over

Two Stewardesses Are Praised Highly

New York (AP)—An American Airlines Electra, bound from Boston to St. Louis, tripped on a dike coming into LaGuardia field Wednesday, cartwheeled, crashed and burned. All 76 persons aboard walked away alive.

The pilot — a supervisory substitute checking on the proficiency of the regular cockpit crew—blamed a sudden wind gust that created a downdraft. At first he said his left wing hooked an 8-foot dike some 500 feet short of the runway.

Later, the pilot, Sheldon E. Pangburn, 47, of Melrose, Mass., amended this to say:

"The main landing gear struck the top of the dike at the end of the runway. We would normally clear the dike by 10 feet . . ."

Police officials credited the coolness of the 70 passengers and the quick-thinking supervision of two stewardesses for the well-nigh miraculous escape of all aboard. They groped through the smoke-filled, upside-down fuselage in an orderly flight to safety.

Belts Fastened

The fact that the passengers and 6 crew members had their safety belts fastened for a landing was regarded as a major factor in their survival.

"The safety belts saved all their lives," said New York Police Inspector James Knott, on the scene. "The stewardesses must have done a hell of a job."

More than a score of passengers had minor injuries patched up at an airport medical station. Six were taken to nearby Flushing Hospital. But none of their wounds was serious and all but two were promptly released.

Hillary Sets Out In His Hunt For Abominable Snowman

Katmandu, Nepal (AP) — Sir Edmund Hillary set out today for a 9-month stay in the Himalayas to look for Abominable Snowmen and make scientific observations.

The New Zealand mountaineer heads a group of 19 men. Along with Sherpas (porters), they will spend the winter between 3 and 4 miles high in the blizzard-lashed area around Mt. Everest — the mountain Hillary and Tenzing Norgay conquered in 1953.

The group will separate into two units, one to establish a hut at 20,000 feet for observations on the effects of altitude on human beings and the other keeping watch on a likely area for a Yeti, or the legendary abominable snowman.

NIKE 'KILLS' A MISSILE IN ITS TOUGHEST TEST

White Sands Missile Range, N.M. (AP)—A Nike Hercules missile intercepted and killed a sister missile 19 miles over this southern New Mexico range Wednesday in the toughest test yet of the nation's main defense against ICBMs.

The Army said the combined speed of the two missiles was more than Mach 7 —7 times the speed of sound.

The killer missile, invisible at the highest altitude yet achieved in a test kill, slammed its explosive warhead into the incoming Nike Hercules with a flash seen from the desert floor.

Operation Bootstraps Draws Enthusiasm

200 Attend Meeting On Amendment

By Virgil Falloon

Hastings — A state-wide campaign for passage of the constitutional amendment to aid industrial development of Nebraska was enthusiastically launched here Wednesday by some 200 civic, business and industrial leaders from the entire state.

Known as "Operation Bootstraps," the program's purpose is to tell the Nebraska voters by the Nov. 8 election what they are voting for in the proposed constitutional adendment.

The amendment, approved recently by a special session of the Legislature, would authorize legislation permitting municipalities and counties to issue revenue bonds for the acquisition and development of industrial sites and property.

No Tax Use

The amendment would not permit the use of taxes to retire the bonds and would grant no tax concessions to industry.

The sites would be leased to private enterprise for manufacturing and industry and the revenue bonds would be retired by lease revenue.

Nathan Gold of Lincoln, chairman of the Nebraska Resources Foundation, keynoted the meeting with a challenge to "overcome apathy and lethargy" and "let industry know there is no place like Nebraska."

"This is the third time the proposition has been put before the people," he said. "If it does not go this time, industry will think Nebraska isn't interested in industry, except for a few towns."

"Let's carry the message to the voter," Gold said. "In the 1959 election, the amendment lost by 51,000 votes, but more important, 130,000 voters did not vote on the amendment."

Amendment Outlined

Deputy Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer outlined the provisions of the amendment and what it would do in permitting Nebraska communities to help themselves.

Frank Morrison, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, renewed his support of the industrial development amendment and discussed what it would mean to the state.

John Cooper, Republican gubernatorial candidate, relayed his pledge of support "to this new industry program before Nebraska" by telegram to the meeting.

Dean E. F. Frolik of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture said "industrialization is a must as far as agriculture and education are concerned."

Labor Support

Richard W. Nisley, president of the Nebraska AFL-CIO, said the state organization had endorsed the constitutional amendment and would support the voter-education campaign.

Other speakers included Loyal Shannon, board chairman of Otoe Food Co., Nebraska City; Walter Behlen, president of Behlen Manufacturing Co., Columbus, and Donn Davis, president of the Nebraska Junior Chamber Presidents Association.

Charles Uerling of Hastings, an early-supporter of the get-industry drive, said "the Legislature has done its job and now its up to us to let the voters know what they are casting their ballots for."

Uerling was named financial chairman of the campaign.

More than 40 Nebraska communities were represented at the meeting, and others sent messages of support for Operation Bootstraps.

Notably absent from the meeting was the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. A representative of Mayor John Rosenblatt said he would recommend city support of the campaign.

Representatives of several Nebraska communities were severely critical of the Omaha Chamber's absence and apparent lack of interest.

One said: "This is not a program for the big city or the little towns—but one for the entire state."

Represented at the meeting were the new Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce, South Platte United Chamber, Loup Valley Chamber.

Other towns identifying themselves were Lincoln, Norfolk, Lexington, Ord, Columbus, McCook, Oxford, Fairbury, Minden, Nebraska City, David City, Elgin, Central City, Friend, Wayne, Hooper, Tecumseh, Falls City, Superior, Tekamah, Exeter, Hebron, Carleton, Crete, Tecumseh, Burwell, Sidney, Holdrege, Grand Island, St. Paul, Beatrice, Arapahoe, Kearney, Curtis, York, Harvard, Red Cloud, Broken Bow, Fremont and Albion.

The meeting was given a listener's glimpse of the most-ardent campaigner for the industrial development amendment.

Her name is "IDA" and her seductive-voiced plea for voter support for the amendment will be heard many times before Nov. 8.

They're Telling About 'IDA'

Nathan J. Gold, chairman of Nebraska Resources Foundation (left), and Deputy Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer were among the Hastings meeting speakers telling how "Ida"—nickname for the Industrial Development Amendment—can help Nebraska communities help themselves to lure more industry into the state. (Star Staff Photo.)

B47s Collide Over Atlantic

Shannon, Ireland (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force B47 jet bombers collided high over the Atlantic Wednesday. A huge air-sea research began for the 3 crewmen of one which spiraled down into the squally sea.

The other bomber struggled 330 miles to a safe landing at Shannon Airport with a battered engine hanging beneath one wing.

The downed 6-jet aircraft plunged 33,000 feet into waves tossing under gale winds.

Crewmen of the missing plane were identified as:

Capt. Robert C. Huber, 29, of Baltimore, the commander.
1st Lt. Duane E. Bartlett, 25, of Pittsford, N. Y., copilot.

Lincoln Driver Remains Serious

Lincoln Star Special

Fairbury—James L. Rakes, 20, of 2121 West O, Lincoln, was still in serious condition at a hospital here Wednesday.

The Mills Film Transfer Co. driver suffered a broken leg, head injury and other minor injuries Friday when his truck left U.S. 136, 4 miles east of Jansen.

A hospital official said Rakes is slowly progressing physically but that apparently the head bump he got in the crash is hindering his mental responses.

School Board Agrees To Sell Piece Of Land

The Lincoln Board of Education has agreed to sell a 50 by 70 foot piece of property to J. D. Nelson of 3147 So. 40th.

Board member Robert Venner was instructed to notify Nelson that he could purchase the property, which adjoins his home, for $1,000.

The agreement states Nelson must assume paving and all other special assessments with the purchase and agree to removal of the fence now on the southeast corner of Southeast Lincoln High School property.

The board also approved signing of a petition to pave, curb, gutter and grade 54th Street, Vine to S, and S from 54th to 56th.

In other action, the board authorized the transfer of a 10-foot strip of property near Lincoln Southeast to the city for an easement in building a storm sewer at no cost to the school, and authorized an application to the U.S. government be drawn up.

This application seeks reimbursement of military or other governmental employes' children education in the school district, which amounted to some $400,000 last year.

Telegraphers Protest WU Move To Cut Office Hours

The Commercial Telegraphers' Union, Local 112, has filed a protest with the Federal Communications Commission against a request by Western Union, now pending before the commission, to curtail service hours at the Lincoln office at 121 So. 10th.

The union, in a 5-page statement, protests the following:

—Changing the opening hour in the morning from 7 a.m. to 7:30 a.m. would hamper handling of night letters or messages which the Western Union Agency at 124 No. 16 has not processed, and the backlog file received from the relay reperforator center.

At present, the 7 a.m. opening barely permits processing of overnight telegrams, the union says.

—The telephone answering service has not been satisfactory, resulting in the 10th St. station taking most of the service's file in the morning.

—If the Saturday closing hour is changed from 11 to 10 p.m. the Commission should specify that Western Union provide for any rush caused by transmission by news media of news of sports events by requiring it to be processed by the main office rather than the agency.

Service Poor

—The agency, having no cash advance, provides poor money order service.

—Changing Sunday hours to include only 4-8 p.m. would be a retaliatory measure by Western Union because of the union's protest to a company request to curtail Lincoln service hours. The request was denied by the FCC last March.

—Understaffing has caused poor telephone service at the office, citing one instance wherein the union called the office and the telephone rang 94 times before the clerk, who was busy with long-distance calls, could answer.

—If the Lincoln office closed on Sunday morning, the Omaha office would be the only one open in Nebraska with the next nearest being Denver, 600 miles distant.

Ask Earlier Opening

The union suggested, in the protest, that the morning hour service could be better handled by a 6:30 a.m. opening hour.

Present service hours at the Lincoln office, and the proposed changes requested by Western Union are:

Monday through Friday—Now open from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m., would be open from 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.
Saturday—Now open from 7 a.m. to 11 p. m., would be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.
Sunday—Now open from 8 a.m. until noon and from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m., would be open from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m. only.

Demo Candidate For Atty. General Replies To Meyer

Lincoln Star Special

Hebron —Democratic attorney general nominee W. O. Baldwin Wednesday replied to remarks made at Grand Island Tuesday by his opponent, Republican Deputy Attorney General Clarence Meyer.

"My opponent told the Hall County Republican ladies that if he were elected attorney general he would not base any of his decisions on political considerations," Baldin said.

"I am wondering if he means to imply that he plans a departure from the past policy of the office with which he has been connected for a number of years.

"Or, does he imply that the attorney general's office has not been politically partisan in the past."

A Clearcut Choice

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Discussion seemed to go in the right direction at the Tuesday night meeting called by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to discuss the mosquito infestation issue. It was agreed by all concerned that a permanent solution to the problem must be found. Marshy areas to the north and west of Lincoln cannot be permitted to go on breeding millions and millions of mosquitoes.

The situation puts Lincoln "on a keg of dynamite" in the words of T. A. Filipi, director of the sanitation division of the State Department of Health. The keg is in the form of serious diseases which can be transmitted by the mosquitoes, particularly sleeping sickness among small children. But such an infestation as we have had this summer does not need to reach the catastrophe stage before it can have serious repercussions. Enough mosquito poison in any adult can cause sickness of such a nature as to incapacitate the individual. The Lincoln Air Force Base experienced a serious curtailment of its combat capability as a result of the tremendous numbers of mosquitoes in its area this year.

Serious Bite Aftermath

The only answer to this problem at this time is the formation of a mosquito control district. But this is a poor solution to the problem from several points of view. It requires a vote of the people which must spring from petitions circulated in the proposed district. This alone would mean the failure of probably 90 per cent of the efforts to meet the problem.

Secondly, such a district would naturally be in thinly populated areas and middle to lower income areas. The land area involved would be of marginal value. All of this would mean that the maximum one-mill levy that could be assessed by a district would have serious drawbacks. For one thing, it could prove to be inadequate and secondly, it would be too great a burden in many cases.

The question involved here is a moral and economic one. Is the mosquito problem one belonging strictly to those who are most adversely affected by it? Does not the city in general have any obligation to assist its many specific parts or is each section of the city expected to survive by its own wits and resources? These are the moral questions involved. When there is suffering and hardship, it is a callous thing to say that we have no interest in it because it is not our suffering and hardship.

This, alone, should be a sufficient cause for a different approach to the mosquito problem. But there are other causes or reasons, also. For one thing, while those living closest to the areas of infestation are most directly affected, the entire city suffers some with them. Mosquitoes are not confined to the place in which they were born. The east part of Lincoln may not get a great deal of the mosquitoes born in western marshes but it would get a good share of them.

Such migration might not be enough to create an emergency in the eastern part of the city but it means a lot of inconvenience and discomfort. This provides one selfish reason for attempting to find the best solution to the problem. All of these things combined make it both reasonable and practical to change the district approach to things.

As has been suggested here at other times and was advanced at the Tuesday night meeting, the answer lies in authority to the city or the county or both to take the action necessary to control the mosquito population. This means that existing governmental subdivisions should be given the authority they now lack to spray and drain private property within their jurisdiction.

This would also eliminate the formation of a new arm of government which would be needlessly expensive and a useless duplication of service. The people who are constantly complaining about big government should certainly go along with this different approach. And from the tone of past sessions, the State Legislature constitutes such a complainer. The issue will never be settled if the district idea is maintained. We will experience the same thing in every rainy season that we have experienced this summer. The county, this year, took unusual steps to meet the emergency which existed.

A Permanent Solution

This was commendable action on the part of the county but it cannot be relied upon for a permanent solution. The city and county should get together immediately to draw up a program for submission to the next Legislature, giving one or both of them proper legal grounds on which to act. The Junior Chamber has done a distinct and timely community service by the leadership it has furnished on this subject.

Placing The Blame

The news from the Congo grows more dismal.

From premature independence that unfortunate country has descended by steady steps into armed division and now, the dispatches say, it is disintegrating further into tribalism—and that's about as far as one can go.

The Congolese are in for tragic years.

The tragedy of the Congo is the responsibility of the enlightened portions of the earth.

Communism must take its portion of the blame. It is pulling the roof down over the heads of all, stirring up abortive revolutions which in the end it will never control nor gain from. It may have seemed expedient to estrange the backward areas against the west but the possibility of another great dark age is greater from it than any inconvenience to communism's adversary.

The West is guilty of the error of omission. Granting freedom is no answer unless with the grant there goes a means of improvement. The backward countries do not need diplomats and loans so much as they need the means of existence and the guidance in the lower arts until they can build some kind of a foundation for their advancement.

It is an indictment that the United States is wallowing in what it terms an unwanted surplus of food while it cannot see that that surplus is a providential asset to the backward nation which can never build if it must spend its whole energy searching for a bare subsistence. A wise America would tell its food producers to work day and night while telling the liberated people to spend the time given to seeking subsistence to the more needed jobs of building homes, schools and simple communities.

We have yet to learn the real meaning of foreign aid.

Let Him Cry

The lamentations of Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his confinement to Manhattan Island during his forthcoming United Nations visit are about as ridiculous as anything could be. The most amazing thing about it is that it has been the only thing to date that Khrushchev has come up with on the subject. It was boldly presumptuous in the first place on the part of the Russian premier to finagle himself a visit to the U.S.

He did this in the face of a cancellation by Russia of the scheduled visit of President Eisenhower to the Soviet Union. This was as direct an insult as any president of the United States has ever experienced. Following that was the cancellation of the President's visit to Japan—the result of Soviet-maneuvered unrest in Japan over the trip. This is like a man beating another to the point of death and then deciding that everything should be forgotten and the two remain friends.

To top it all off, the Red leader said, among other things, that the U.S. had no moral foundation for restricting him to U.N. headquarters. Shades of Christianity, human decency and basic honesty! Of all people to be talking about morality, Mr. Khrushchev really takes the cake. Communism has long ago stricken the word from its vocabulary. But, of course, communism will use anything to serve its propaganda ends.

The confinement plan is about as good an answer to the Russian's visit as the State Department could have come up with. It isn't going to do much good for world peace but it at least maintains the self-respect and pride of the nation. And the thought that Khrushchev would be appearing on TV programs here is a revolting one. The best thing that could happen would be that he not only is confined in his travels, but would be ignored by all media of communications. This includes the daily press insofar as the premier's obvious propaganda statements are concerned. He should be covered only insofar as what he says or does has real meaning and significance in world affairs.

Shades Of The China Lobby

The country can take neither pride nor comfort in the angry reflections of Sens. Eastland of Mississippi and Dodd of Conneticut who feel they have found a simple answer for the defection of Castro's Cuba to communism.

They have asserted that ill-disposed lower officials in the State Department were instrumental in the success of the Castro revolution and its perversion to communism.

Their view, one which does not choose to weigh in all the facts, is reminiscent of the late China lobby which ignored the forces of revolution in the Orient and saw in the West's declining fortunes there nothing less than a gigantic action in subversion by American officials to hand China to the Communists. This lobby never succeeded in pinpointing the villains, but persevered in ignoring the patent facts of history. It meant nothing to it that China was in revolution since the days of Dr. Sun Yat Sen and flaming with communist efforts before the days of Japanese expansion and greatly before the U.S. State Department was at grips with the problem. By the time the U.S. got on the job there was not much more to be done except to give Chiang Kai-shek all of the aid he could handle, which it is still doing, albeit he could not handle enough to stem the Red tide.

A situation that goes sour is always fair game for second guessers and it is apparent now that neither the administration nor the State Department gave sufficient weight to Cuba's troubles and failed to take such constructive steps as might have kept the revolution from going off the deep end, but that is far from saying that subversives engineered the defection of Cuba from within our State Department.

A propensity to magnify false or trivial influences at the expense of all the facts is in itself a menace to the nation for it leads public thought into areas of error from which no beleaguered nation can emerge successfully.

Power Fallen From US Hands

WASHINGTON — My six-year-old grandson watched an airplane hauling an advertisement through the sky while he was helping me enjoy two weeks away from the Merry-Go-Round of Washington. It read: "See 'The Lost World' Now."

"Is the world lost?" he asked.

While his grandfather was floundering around trying to make an intelligent reply, Joe gave his own answer.

"Maybe," he said, "it's just the people in the world who are lost."

The fall of the year is a period naturally conducive to pessimism—and unfortunately history shows that this pessimism is justified. Some of our worst international crises have come in September and October after the crops are in. Hitler chose that period to invade Czechoslovakia in 1938, and Poland in the start of World War II in 1939; Mussolini invaded Ethiopia in October, 1935; and Franco touched off the Spanish civil war in the late summer of 1936. I am not enough of a pessimist to believe the world is that far lost today. But I do believe in noting—and watching—some significant comparisons with past periods of crisis.

The 1956 crisis in Africa—In the fall of 1956, as Eisenhower was campaigning for re-election, Israel, England and France took over part of the Suez Canal — many felt with just provocation.

Shortly thereafter Premier Bulganin, then top front man in the Kremlin, sent a brutal note to the United States, England and France demanding that the latters' troops get out of Suez, and threatening that Russia would retaliate. The United States was included in the warning despite the fact that Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles were then in the process of pressuring our allies for peace.

The 1960 crisis in Africa—Now turn the clock forward to the present. Once again we are electing a president. Once again there is trouble in the same continent of Africa. This time, not Egypt and a canal, but the Congo, with a tremendous wealth of uranium and copper, is involved.

Yet no blunt warning, similar to that of Premier Bulganian during the Suez crisis, telling Russia to stop stirring up war, has come from the White House.

The reason, I regret to report, is simple: we have lost the balance of power. We are in no position to back up such a note if we sent it. The Soviet knows it. Our allies know it — even if the American electorate doesn't.

Things may work out OK in the Congo in the end. But the world's drift from crisis to crisis is almost certain to continue. It will be the Congo this week, it will be Formosa next week, and Cuba the week after. Because the secret of success at the diplomatic bargaining table is strength to back up our diplomats' demand for peace.

Kennedy Scores Well With Texans

DALLAS, Texas—"I don't think that young fellow would let anyone tell him what to do, including the Pope and his mother."

The comment came from a Negro Baptist preacher who had watched Sen. John Kennedy's encounter with the Houston Ministerial Alliance. Homemade signs proclaiming "A Baptist for Kennedy," which blossomed in a big Dallas parade the next morning, suggested the Democratic nominee had convinced other Texans.

Democratic politicians, encouraged by great turnouts to see the candidate at all hours in small towns and large, including the one in this pro-Republican territory, see ground for hope that a Kennedy image of independence is already emerging. "He's getting to the people," exulted one optimist.

Such comment is surely premature. The Protestant lions who were bearded by the young Daniel from Massachusetts in their own den did not seem sharp-toothed to national observers, but on their home grounds they have long been dominant and they will not change.

The same Negro preacher who admired Kennedy and planned to get him some votes said he didn't convince a single questioner. "Those folks will go on doing just what they have been doing," he predicted. "I don't know if they can hold the young people, but they'll hold a lot of others."

☆ ☆ ☆

The crowd barometers are registering about equal appeal for Kennedy and Vice-President Richard Nixon, who briefly preceded him here. Texas is a battleground and enjoying it.

Also, as it has grown in riches, industrialization and influence, it has been itching for and inching toward a two-party system. If the state's rights conservatives, already amply financed and boomed by a friendly press, could solve the problem of how to fly the Republican flag over the courthouses, Texas would explode overnight into warring Republican and Democratic parties well matched in firepower if not numbers.

It is still the better part of valor all through the South to protect local membership in the parent political company.

The vice-president understands this; his organizers here fly banners rallying "Texans for Nixon" with "Republican" still seemingly the discouraging word that should seldom be heard.

☆ ☆ ☆

The vice-president went even further here with an attempted kidnaping of Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson. Today's Democratic nominees, he implied, would not be recognized by such real Democratic statesmen.

Kennedy swiftly picked this up, telling his cheering partisans that Kennedy and Johnson were true heirs to the whole line of Democratic presidential ancestors," just as Nixon is heir to Coolidge, Harding, Hoover, Landon and Thomas E. Dewey."

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: When a person has a choking spell having got a crumb of bread or cake in his windpipe) is it proper to hit him between the shoulders? We were brought up to think that was the thing to do, but I have heard since that it isn't good. Which is right? —E. W. R."

With the example you cite — a crumb of bread or cake — whacking on the back wouldn't be likely to do any harm. The object—the crumb, that is — is soft and readily dissolves or is broken up.

Dr. Molner

It's a different story if the object is larger and hard, say a nut, bead, bone or some such thing. In that case pounding on the back can cause the victim to gasp and inhale — thus jamming the obstruction deeper into the windpipe.

Above as, never poke a finger into the person's throat; you may push the object down against the larynx and shut off the breath entirely.

And picking a child up by the heels, or otherwise turning him upside down, is not without danger. If the object is in the windpipe, it can move against the larynx with the same result — shutting off the breath.

Most of these choking spells are the result of something deep in the throat, but not in the windpipe. Coughing is the automatic means of clearing the throat. Let the person cough; eventually he will usually expel whatever is there.

However, a slight touch of panic usually prevails. Somebody has to "do something," and there you are. Actually, the less that is done, the better.

If continued coughing and choking give reason to believe the object, whatever it is, remains stuck in the throat or windpipe, the proper course is to have the victim examined with a bronchoscope — and you'd be amazed at some of the things fished out of people by this means.

The point is, of course, that with a bronchoscope the doctor can see what he is doing. He can avoid the risk of jamming the object against the larynx or otherwise shifting it so the victim can get no air at all.

One of the worst things to inhale remains the ordinary peanut. I have nothing against peanuts, but we'll all be better off if we don't try to eat 'em while running, or talking, or laughing. Be especially careful with small children. My own rule is never to give them peanuts. Most of them are so fond of peanut butter that keeping the whole nuts away from them is no great deprivation.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is a musical heart? — C.C."

It's a non-medical term used to denote a heart with murmurs. Murmurs are quite frequent in children, without any great significance. In adults, murmurs are more likely, but not always, to mean some degree of heart trouble. Think of it this way: A mechanic listens to an automobile motor. He interprets the sound and figures out what parts of the motor, if any, need further checking. Listening to murmurs is somewhat the same. A "musical heart" is one with quite a bit of "noise" to hear.

"Dear Dr. Molner: If I can't soon find an answer to my problem, I will lose my husband. What can I do to stop snoring? — T. E."

Have an ear-nose-throat specialist see if he can find some discrepancy in the way the nose and throat and soft palate tissues are formed. Sometimes tonsils or adenoids or polyps are at fault. Frankly, sometimes we can't find anything wrong, but the snoring goes on. Sometimes using a band to keep the mouth closed is the answer. sometimes learning not to sleep on the back does it. And sometimes ear plugs for the complaining listener, is the best and only answer. Try all of these — and don't lose your husband.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am anxious about a strange set of symptoms which I try to laugh off, but they are not imaginary. My speech is jumbled and I feel in a hazy, sleepy mood. I mix the first letters of worlds like a "dold cay" instead of "cold day." I can't concentrate. Something important, mentioned only an hour before, is out of my head unless it is written down. Please suggest something, if only a source of information on this. — L. B."

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can you tell me about the use of gold salts for arthritis? Are they dangerous to use? Are they effective? — B. C."

Gold salts, long used in treating rheumatoid arthritis, are still in use, and a very recent study shows them to be effective in many cases. (We don't know of any single treatment that is bound to be effective in all cases.) They are not dangerous. Sometimes, with some people, they cause minor "side effects," such as skin eruptions, but such trouble ceases when the treatment is stopped.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Laws For All

Lincoln, Neb.

The remarks of certain Protestant church leaders are disturbingly thoughtless. Have they so little faith in the Constitution of the United States to think that the election of a Catholic president would deliver us to a "dictating Pope"? Do Protestant leaders actually acknowledge that the Pope and the Roman Catholic body are a power so awesome?

What is feared is usually the result of ignorance and misunderstanding. If you fear the influence of a Catholic president, you are admitting to ignorance or confused thinking. Do Catholics fear a Protestant president? No, Catholics know that even though the Catholic body in the United States is a minority, they are protected by our Constitution. They thank God for it. I am afraid that without the Constitution as it is, no Catholic would be allowed to seek the office of the presidency.

But Protestants fear a Catholic president because of a man across the sea who holds the Catholic body in spiritual unity. Fear of this little man sways their thinking to such an extent that they not only unwittingly pay this little man a terrific compliment, but they scramble and trample over the very words that insure them freedom from that little man's "tyranny."

If you love your country and believe its laws to be good and fair and applicable to all, then you know that those laws will protect a Catholic from Protestant tyranny, a Protestant from Catholic tyranny, and a Jew from Christendom's tyranny, and they will, with God's loving grace, help protect us all from going to blazes.

Ho-Hum

Lincoln, Neb.

The political discussion between Mr. Morrison and Mr. Cooper last Wednesday evening was very interesting. In The Star the following morning, Don Walton was very kind to Mr. Cooper in his report.

To the question for Mr. Cooper, "Why are you a Republican?" Mr. Cooper gave this answer: "Republicans are of a higher caliber," etc. (Boos!!)

Webster defines "caliber" as "degree of excellence or importance." Now we know. In visiting with many of the Republicans, it does not take long to discover this trait. Ho-hum.

Oh, yes, Mr. Morrison's answer to "Why are you a Democrat?" was excellent and chockfull of sound reasoning.

Melon Incident

Palisade, Neb.

Regarding the letter "Farm Thievery," signed by "J. C." of Holdrege, after reading this letter, my first impulse was to be thoroughly disgusted to think anyone out here in Nebraska could write such a letter without first knowing all the facts concerning such an important incident as that resulting in our loss of a dear one here at Palisade. I therefore tried my best to view his side or reason for writing such a letter.

True, it was wrong for the boys to be in the melon patch and it is also wrong for people to steal from this man and his neighbors, but surely he cannot honestly compare melon-stealing by young folks with the kind of thieving he is supposed to experience in his locality. For as any of us can remember, boys and girls have at one time or another tried their luck at swiping melons, and when a person plants melons he can definitely expect this to happen. If his melon patch means so much to him as to take a young man's life, there are several things he could do rather than kill someone, such as leading them to law authorities at the point of a gun, if necessary, or firing in the air to frighten them, or obtaining a mean dog to guard the patch. I hardly think any business man here or anywhere else would kill someone if he saw them taking something from his store without first turning them over to law authorities, unless it was a matter of self-defense.

"J.C.'s" idea of pheasant hunters hunting only to case some farm places was quite amusing to me, and I can't possibly think all people are as mean or bad as he gives them credit for.

He stated that he hoped those responsible for filing charges in the Palisade case should think things over, etc. The county attorney filed after tests at Lincoln were made. No one from here did the filing of charges.

Commissioners Discuss Courthouse Squeeze; Space Juggling Indicated

By Del Harding

The problem of lack of space at the County Courthouse, which may be further complicated by having to provide quarters for a separate Juvenile Court, was discussed Wednesday by county officials.

County Commissioners Rollin Bailey and Kenneth Bourne had called the meeting to discuss moving the county law library from the second floor to the third floor where it would share quarters with the Civil Defense Office, thus making second floor space available for interviewing rooms for the Juvenile Probation Office.

But before the meeting was over it was clear the officials in attendance viewed the proposal to create a separate Juvenile Court for Lancaster County with disapproval. The issue will be put before the voters Nov. 8, and if it passes, a separate Juvenile Court will be established and the county will have to furnish quarters for it.

Reservations

Bourne's and Bailey's proposal to use the space now housing the law library for interviewing rooms was received by the other officials with some reservation.

County Atty. Elmer Scheele and District Judge Harry Spencer both pointed out that if the Juvenile Court proposal passes, the interviewing rooms probably would have to be used for the new juvenile judge and his staff. They suggested waiting until after the election to see if the proposal passes.

But Bourne and Bailey indicated they wanted to go ahead and move the library and partition off the space into interviewing rooms. They said the Juvenile Probation Office is extremely overcrowded.

Decision Delayed

The two commissioners agreed to delay a decision for a week to allow Scheele, County Judge Herbert Ronin, the 4 district judges and Lincoln Bar Assn. President Chauncey Barney, who also attended the meeting, to discuss the problem and report back to the board with a recommendation.

County Engineer Louis Weaver was asked to survey the courthouse's 3rd floor to determine how much space would be available if the 4 offices now located there (Civil Defense, School Supt.; Relief Office and the Adult Probation Office) were to be moved elsewhere.

This was done with the view that if the Juvenile Court proposal passes, the entire 3rd floor might be used for the court and its staff and also for the Juvenile Probation Office

Cost of Court

During discussion of the Juvenile Court proposal it was brought out that the establishment of a separate court would cost Lancaster County at least an additional $20,000 a year. This would include only the salaries of the juvenile judge, his bailiff and court reporter. Administrative costs would be additional.

One official said flatly he believed the juvenile case load in Lancaster County does not justify establishment of a separate Juvenile Court and that it would be a "waste of money."

He suggested the bar association take a stand on the matter and support the present system whereby the juvenile assignment is rotated yearly among the 4 district judges.

CAB Chief's Stand Termed 'Incredible' By Rush Clarke

Special Assistant Attorney General Rush Clarke of North Platte Wednesday termed as "incredible" the position of Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman Whitney Gillilland concerning Nebraska's case against Frontier Airlines.

Gillilland had been quoted as saying in Omaha Tuesday night that a temporary injunction issued by Nebraska District Judge Albert W. Crites of Chadron forbidding Frontier to drop service without permission of the State Railway Commission would not be recognized.

Clarke said, "I hope Judge Gillilland has been misquoted, because it is incredible that any man in his position, especially one with the judicial background of Judge Gillilland, would suggest nonrecognition of the decrees of the state courts on purely intrastate matters."

Gillilland also had said in Omaha that if Frontier was compelled by the Nebraska court to continue its service on the Northern route, "there might be an interesting question about whether we would continue to pay its subsidy in view of our suspension order."

State Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink said he concurs with Clarke's view on the CAB chairman's statements.

Meanwhile, Dan Brock, Fontier vice president, said the air line will not suspend service on the Northern route unless it can succeed in having the court order removed.

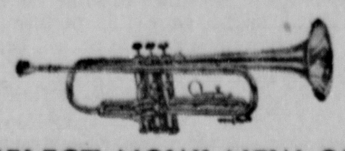

The original CAB order allowing Frontier to temporarily suspend its Northern route service was to go into effect at the close of business at midnight Thursday.

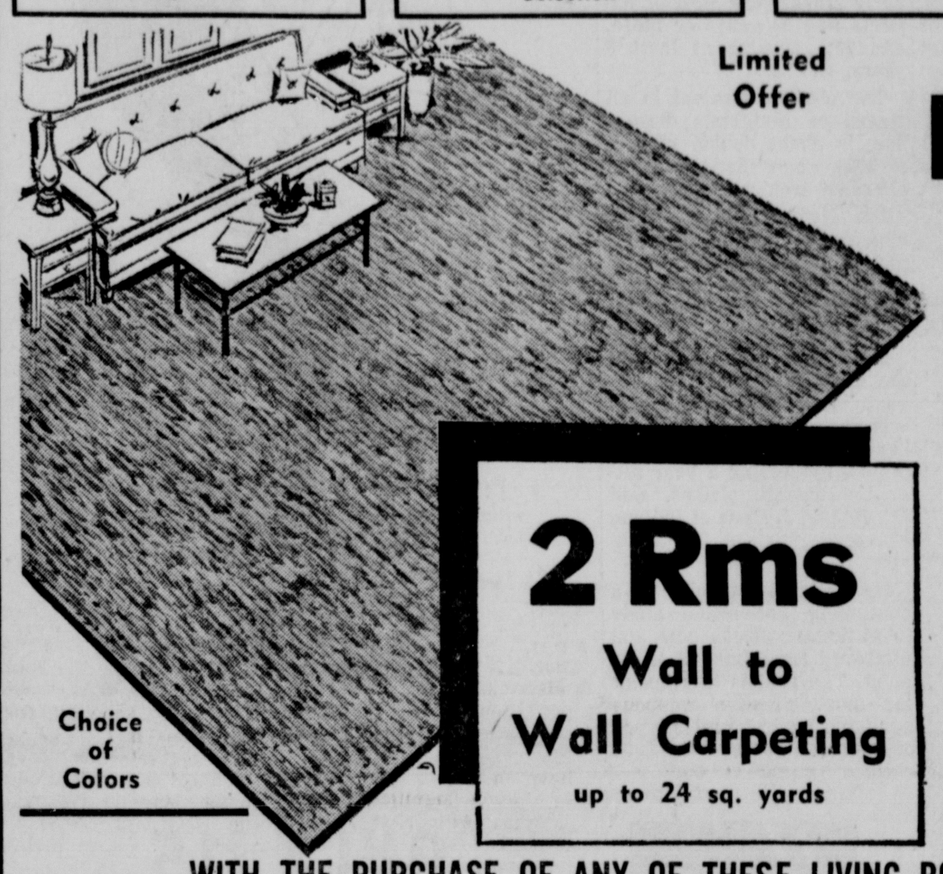

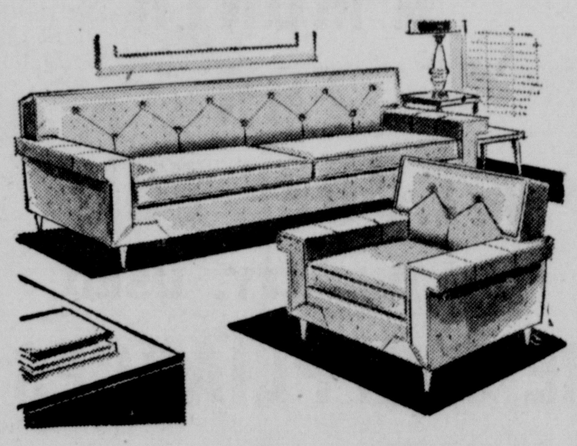

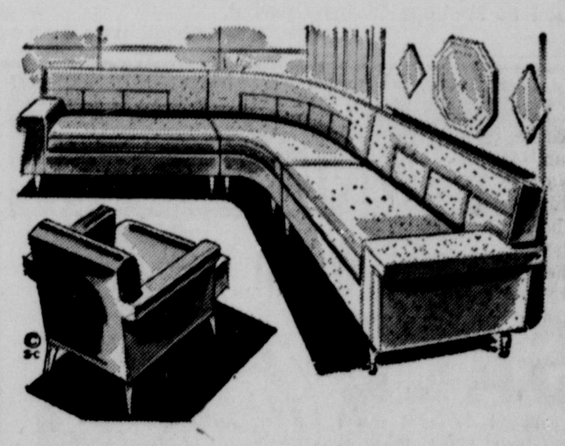

Brock said Frontier is taking legal steps which it hopes will dissolve Judge Crites' order

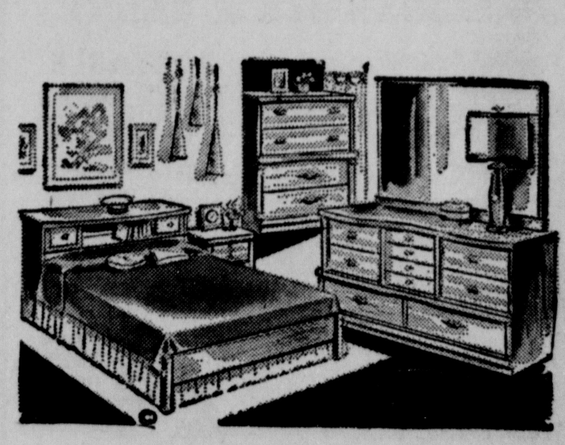

"We will have to obey the court order as long as it is in effect," Brock said.

Liberalism Can Solve U.S. Problems—Kennedy

By Arthur Edson

New York (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy said that only liberalism can solve this nation's problems, and claimed that under the Republicans this has become a tired nation.

"Only liberalism," he said, "can repair our national power, restore our national purpose and liberate our national energies.

"Only liberalism can solve the bitter problems this nation faces as we enter the turbulent 60s."

Kennedy got an uproarious welcome before a dinner meeting of the Liberal Party which has endorsed him for the presidency. The Liberal Party operates only in this state.

The crowd was with Kennedy from his introduction when Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, who is called "America's greatest Protestant theologian," presented Kennedy to the audience.

Niebuhr is vice president emeritus of Union Theological Seminary and vice chairman of the Liberal Party. He said that Catholics have played an important role in democracy.

Suggests Reading History

"Our American bigots ought to read a little history," Niebuhr said. "It's unfortunate that Americans don't realize that lay Catholics often have been the strength of democracy, not only in this country but in western Europe."

Kennedy stressed throughout this speech his devotion to liberalism.

"Clear-sighted, tough-minded, warm-hearted liberalism," Kennedy said, "is our best, our only hope in the world today.

It was a curious day of campaigning.

It even included a stump speech in one of the most unlikely settings a presidential candidate could pick: From the trunk of a Ford convertible in front of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

The climax came when he appeared before the Liberal Party which has endorsed him as a candidate.

"It is an unfortunate fact," Kennedy said, "that in recent years the world 'liberal' has been out of fashion in some cricles.

"This party has never been ashamed of the title —and I am proud to be the liberal candidate."

Kennedy said this is his liberal credo:

"I believe in human dignity as the source of national purpose — in human liberty as the source of national action —in the human heart as the source of our compassion— and in the human mind as the source of our invention and ideas."

Kennedy said he doesn't believe in waste, incompetence or state compulsion.

But, he said, "government is an art and a precious obligation — and when it has a job to do, I believe that it should do it."

Kennedy insisted, as he has through the political swing, that the Republicans are falling down on that obligation.

"For 8 years," he said, "we have been a tired nation. David Lloyd George (a former British prime minister) once said that a tired nation is a Tory nation — and I would add that a Tory nation is a tired nation — and that in the turbulent 60s the United States cannot afford to be either tired or Tory." And he gave this picture of Republicans in action, or, in his view, inaction:

Offers A Definition

"This is the Republican logic. When confronted by crises requiring government action — in civil rights, education, a slowdown in economic growth, local unemployment, an agricultural depression, even the Salk vaccine — our government has, on principle, tried to do as little as it can — and, if possible, nothing at all."

Kennedy made a rather surprising allusion to his Roman Catholicism, especially as he has said previously he would never bring it up on his own volition.

This is the way he brought it in:

"It has been suggested in recent months that the election and the administration of a President who is also a Catholic might go a long way toward dispelling the fears of those who are blinded by the prevailing myths about American liberalism. And I intend to prove that starting next January."

Kennedy was preceded by a couple of men who in the past have also won the Liberal Party endorsement, Herbert H. Lehman, former senator from New York, and Adlai Stevenson, who was the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956.

Researchers Disclose Gains Against Leukemia

Minneapolis (AP) —Cancer researchers Wednesday reported heartening gains in combatting now-incurable leukemia and Hodgkins disease.

The gains so far only win extra months or even years of life, and temporary return to health and normal activity.

But "the outlook is promising" for eventual control of these forms of cancer, said Dr. Sidney Farber of Boston, a pioneer in fighting cancers with drugs.

"If I had to pick one form of cancer for which a definite cure will first be found it will be the leukemias and lymphomas," he said at sessions of the fourth National Cancer Conference.

Lymphomas are cancerous involvement of lymph glands.

Major improvements particularly in treating chronic leukemia and Hodgkin's disease were described to the conference sponsored by the American Cancer Society and National Cancer Institute.

Chronic lymphocytic leukemia accounts for about 60% of all leukemias and now is "quite a treatable disease," said Dr. Ralph Wayne Rundles of Duke University School of Medicine.

Doctors now have several types of chemical aids, and one third of patients with chronic leukemia live 6 to 10 years after the disease is diagnosed, he said. The median survival is 4 to 5 years.

In an 8-hospital study comparing 3 different treatments, the drug chlorambucil was found more effective than TEM or radio active phosphorus, Dr. Rungles reported.

Chlorambucil produced good to excellent results in 65% of a small group of patients. "Excellent" meant a return to good health and normal life for a time.

Hodgkin's disease is not the hopeless ailment it used to be, said Dr. M. Vera Peters of the Ontario Cancer Institute, Toronto, Can.

When treatment is begun in early stages, one fifth of patients live 20 years or more, and 70% survive at least 5 years, she said.

The median survival in all stages of Hodgkin's disease now is about double of that in 1926 when there were no effective treatments.

Dr. Peters said radiation appears to be the most effective treatment in early stages, sometimes combined with surgery to remove affected lymph nodes.

Even in acute leukemia, the deadliest form, significant increases have been scored since 1950 in the number of patients who live at least 6 months or a year after the disease strikes, said Dr. Robert J. Rone of Indiana University School of Medicine.

He described results of a continuing nationwide study to evaluate various new and improved techniques of treatment. The goal is to pinpoint the most effective weapons available against major types of cancer.

Kefauver Will Fete Morrison In Washington

Democratic gubernatorial nominee Frank Morrison will be honored at a dinner in Washington Thursday hosted by Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Morrison served as Kefauver's campaign manager in his successful Nebraska presidential primary battle with Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma in 1952.

The Washington gathering will be composed chiefly of a "a bi-partisan group of Nebraskans in the capital," Morrison said.

The Democratic candidate will return to Nebraska for a full day in McCook Friday.

Morrison participated in the program of the Nebraska Industrial Development Council at Hastings Wednesday.

Discoverer 15 Capsule Lost

Vandenberg Air Force Base Calif. (AP) — The Air Force failed Wednesday to catch a parachuting space capsule on the fly and said later there was little hope of finding it in the sea.

Thus the United States seemed destined for another failure after recovering two such capsules in a row.

The Air Force said the capsule apparently separated from the orbiting Discoverer XV satellite on schedule. But planes sent out from Hawaii to try to catch it in the air received no signals from it after the separation.

Two planes and a ship were patrolling the area where the capsule was supposed to come down, but the project officials said they doubted it would be found.

In Honolulu, a spokesman for the Pacific Missile range reported a signal, believed to be coming from the Discoverer XV capsule, was pin-pointed 740 miles south of Honolulu.

The spokesman said the recovery ship Dalton victory was 500 miles north of the signal and steaming toward it at 15 knots.

The aerial recovery—which worked in the case of the Discoverer XIV capsule Aug. 19—was attempted by a squadron of cargo planes equipped with dangling, trapeze-like snares.

The Air Force had made two straight recoveries. It fished the Discoverer XIII capsule from the sea before making its first aerial catch last month.

Discoverer XV's capsule, a 300-pound bell-shaped package, contained "sky spy" gear but no animals.

GEORGIA'S VOTERS FOR 'FREE ELECTORS' PLAN

Atlanta (AP) — Georgia Democrats revolted Wednesday against the national party leadership and apparently authorized a bolt by the state's 12 electors in the Electoral College balloting for the presidency.

Tabulations of returns from a referendum in the Democratic primary showed a mounting tide of sentiment for electors free to vote for whom they choose instead of being pledged to Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. The Democratic electors, headed by Gov. Ernest Vandiver, must defeat the Republcans in November to win the voting right.

Results of the referendum are not binding on the electors, however.

A continuing trend favoring unpledged electors would be one of the most startling political developments in Georgia in many years.. Vandiver had announced that barring unforeseen events he would vote as head of the state's electors for the national ticket.

An early lead for pledged electors, piled up by voting in the Atlanta area of more than a million persons, was wiped out by swelling returns from the rural counties where sentiment runs high for segregation and against the civil rights plank of the party platform.

An Associated Press tabulation shortly showed 80,718 favoring unpledged electors and 71,426 for a pledged slate. The returns were from 762 of the 1,826 precincts.

Vandiver, who has made no prediction on the result, was in seclusion and no statement on the future course of action was forthcoming. Aides had said earlier that he probably would withhold comment until all returns are in officially.

TOYVILLE — THIRD

Witch Doctors Incite Baluba s To Battle

Elisabethville, The Congo (AP) — Spurred on by witch doctors, Baluba tribesmen have overrun the tin mining center of Manono in a two-day battle, reports reaching Elisabethville said Wednesday night.

These accounts said heavy fighting continues between Balubas and police in the town 400 miles north of this Katanga capital.

Ine informant said 70 tribesmen had been killed but this was not confirmed.

A Katanga government official earlier announced 3 Baluba rebels had been killed. The official said the Balubas support Patrice Lumumba in the struggle for control of the central Congo government.

Refused

Katanga, which has declared its secession from the central government, has asked the United Nations for permission to send more troops to Manono but the request so far has peen refused. The U.N. insists that only commercial flights are to be allowed inside the Congo.

U.N. officials said 20 Swedish U.N. troops already have been flown to Manono from Elisabethville and a contingent of Irish troops was being moved from Albertville to the fighting scene.

A police officer said "the gendarmerie of Manono are fighting like lions."

The reports of the Manono fighting were brought out by airplane pilots and refugees.

Some Leave

Two DC3 aircraft arrived in Elisabethville from Manono. The first carried about 35 wives of African policemen and some whites. The second plane carried white men and women.

A government official said the trouble broke out in the African quarter of Manono after witch doctors and a religious sect incited the Balubas.

The official said the tribesmen attacked police and the police fought them off while the 70 whites in the town took shelter in an office building.

Escaped

They were protected for a time by U.N. troops in the area, he said, and then escaped to the airport where the planes awaited them.

Pilot Jean Marck, who flew out 83 men, women and children and 1 dog, reported the town was in flames and said mobs had wrecked office buildings and a church.

Many whites were said to be refusing to leave Manono. Among them were 15 white women who said they wanted to remain with their husbands.

Woman Didn't Want Firemen Running Through Her House

South Bend, Ind. (AP) —A 50-year-old South Bend woman left a finger stuck in a lavatory drain for 25 hours rather than have rescuing firemen "come running and spraying water all over my nice, clean house."

Mrs. Anderson saw a wisp husband, Edward, finally gave up just before noon Wednesday trying to get his wife's right index finger loose and called firemen. They freed her in a few minutes by cutting the pipe with a pair of snips.

Mr. Anderson saw a wisp of hair in the drain Tuesday morning and went after it. Her finger stuck. She couldn't get it out.

At 4p.m. her husband arrived from work and found the doors locked. He thought his wife was shopping and he returned at dark.

He saw a light in the second-floor bathroom, called and learned his wife's predicament. He crawled through a basement window and worked until 1 a.m. Wednesday trying to free his wife after she refused outside help.

Mr. Anderson again suggested the fire rescue squad.

"What, and spoil my nice, clean house. Oh, no," Mrs. Anderson exclaimed.

Edward sat his wife on a kitchen stool and went to bed

This morning, he went downtown, got some plumbers' tools and worked until 11:30 a.m. on the finger.

"I give up," he said, and called firemen.

Freed, Mrs. Anderson refused to go to a hospital for treatment for her bruised finger.

"Now, I'll have this awful mess to clean up," she said.

Nebraskans, Midwest And Beyond Invited To Use University Center

The University of Nebraska is inviting "adults of Nebraska, of the Midwest and beyond" to make use of the $3 million Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

The facility is being constructed on the College of Agriculture campus and should be ready for use by next June.

The University's invitation is extended through a 15-page booklet explaining the function of the new structure.

Adults may make use of the center for conferences, institutes, workshops and seminars.

Major purpose of the facility is to help adults:

—meet successfully the ever increasing complexity of 20th Century living.

—broaden concepts and perspectives.

—acquire new skills and abilities.

—reinforce skills once learned and abilities once developed.

The First Step

First step in arranging for a center program is to contact any member of the University faculty, the administrative staff of a college or the center staff directly.

Arthur B. Ward is head of conferences and institutes at the University and is responsible for directing and planning at the center.

Knute O. Broady, director of the extension division, is responsible for the over-all operation of the center.

Alan B. Knox is head of evaluation and training; Martin C. Kohlligian is manager of housing and food services.

Conference co-ordinators include John M. Cronland, Harry Dedering and C. W. "Bill" Bowmaster.

Many Experts

"Authorities and experts from every walk of life can be obtained for a center program," the brochure notes.

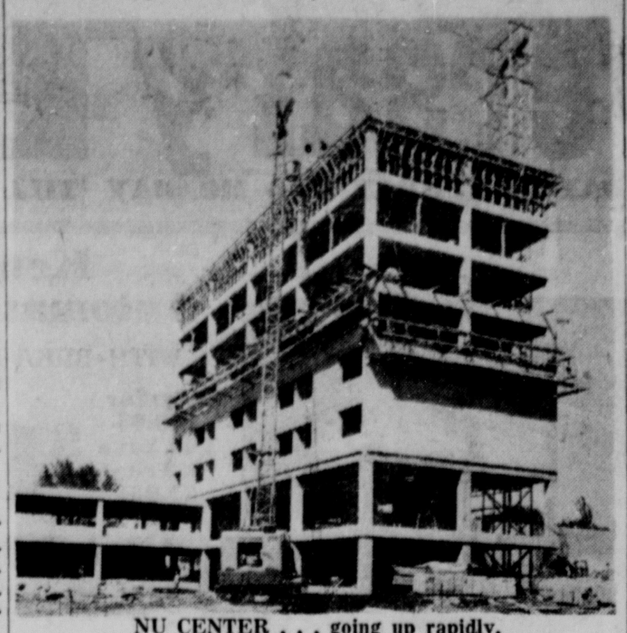

"Where local experts are available . . . these individuals will provide educational leadership.

"When it is deemed desirable, teaching staff and resource people will be obtained from other institutions and organizations in other areas or from other countries."

It is anticipated that both open and closed circuit television will soon be available as a resource.

Among facilities under construction at the center: more than a dozen conference rooms; an auditorium which will seat 600; parking space for 300 vehicles; a banquet area equipped to serve 750 persons.

In addition, there will be 98 air-conditioned rooms sleeping two persons each, with a private bath and closet space.

NU CENTER . . . going up rapidly.

6 Pen Inmates Win Paroles

The Nebraska Board of Pardons and Paroles Wednesday granted parole to 6 inmates of the State Penitentiary, paroled a 7th effective next year, and denied parole to an 8th.

The board is composed of Gov. Dwight Burney, who was presiding over his first Pardon Board meeting, Atty. Gen. Clarence S. Beck, and Frank Marsh, secretary of state.

Denied a parole was L. B. Christensen, 39, of Iowa Falls, Iowa. Christensen was sentenced in July, 1958, for writing no-fund checks in Cass County.

Paroled effective March 1, 1961, was Alexander A. McBride, 51, of Omaha, who was sentenced to 20 years in May of 1953 for incest in Douglas County.

Granted immediate parole were the following, including crime, county where convicted, term, and date of conviction:

Robert K. Bowling, 46, Lincoln; disposing of mortgaged property, Cass, 3 years, January, 1959.

Vern Ellerman, 29, Fremont; no-fund checks, Dodge, 5 years, July, 1958.

James R. Johnson, 23, Omaha; robbery, Douglas, 12, October, 1957.

John Schuetz, 52, Coffeyville, Kan.; no-fund check, Douglas, 4 years, August, 1959.

Charles A. Miller, 36, Omaha; burglary, Douglas, 4 years, September, 1958.

Archie Kelsey, 56, Winnebago; breaking and entering, Thurston, 5-10 years, March, 1957.

Withdrawal Urged

London (AP) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia urged immediate withdrawal of Western troops from the United Nations command in the Congo.

Suit Seeks Lower School Tax Levy

Omaha (AP) — Attorney August Ross has filed a suit asking the Douglas County District Court to reduce the Omaha School District tax levy by 2 mills.

The suit charges the district with seeking to attain an unnecessary surplus. The present levy is 28.5.

At last count, there were 179,000 licensed amateur radio stations in the United States.

Red Strategy Based On Surprise

Washington (AP)—A Russian Navy captain who defected in disillusionment last year declared Wednesday that since February 1955 Soviet strategy has been based on the doctrine of a nuclear surprise attack on the United States.

Capt. Nikolai Fedorovich Artamonov, who crossed to the West in June 1959, came into the open before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The 32-year-old Russian said a realization that "everything being said in Russia was not true, but based on lies'" led him to defect. He didn't say how he escaped to the West.

Speaking mostly in Russian with the aid of an interpreter, the heavily mustached Artamonov said the doctrine of surprise attack was established "in a Soviet military publication which is known only to officers of flag rank and above."

He conceded he had not actually seen any directives to prepare for a surprise attack on the United States.

"But I know of general, broad statements which tended to prepare the Soviet officer corps for the possibility of being ordered to make a surprise attack," added the slim, dark ex-destroyer skipper.

Not First

Artamonov said "no senior Soviet officer believes that the United States will attack first."

The Un-American Activities Committee brought Artamonov to its witness chair about a week after the Russians trotted out two defecting American code clerks, Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin. Mitchell and Martin said they went to Russia because they objected to what they said were U.S. spy policies risking World War III.

Questioned by the committee, the bespectacled Artamonov said Russian fishing trawlers often sighted near U.S. waters are operated by Soviet Naval Intelligence. Russian submarines also hover close to American territorial waters hunting information, he testified.

What are they seeking? Knowledge about the makeup of the U.S. fleet, weapons used by American warships and anti-submarine measures being taken by the U.S. Navy, the Russian defector said.

Although without apparent emotion, he spoke in bitter words of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"Khrushchev does not wish to wait indefinitely for the United States to become a socialist state by evolution; moreover he does not believe this will happen," Artamonov asserted.

"He would like to see it take place in his lifetime."

At another point, the former Russian Navy man told the committee:

Big If

"If Khrushchev believed the strength of the Soviet Union was overwhelming he would, of course, deal a stunning blow to the West."

However, he also said Khrushchev probably is serious about attempting to achieve agreements through peaceful means, to avoid war.

Later, Artamonov told newsmen—again through an interpreter—that he is living in New York, without any special protection. All he has to defend himself against possible Communist reprisals, he said, are "my own hands."

Ag Achievement Winners Listed

Omaha (AP) — Ak-Sar-Ben has named 6 Nebraskans to receive the annual Agricultural Achievement Awards of the organization. They will be presented at a dinner Sept. 26.

To be honored are:

W. J. Coad Sr., Omaha; Forrest Lee, Brownlee; Glenn Lewis, Exeter; O. W. Moore, Gering; Harold Stevens, Lexington, and C. Y. Thompson, West Point.

857,000 In State Eligible To Vote

Washington (AP) — About 107 million American civilians will be old enough to vote in the November presidential election, the Census Bureau estimated.

But the bureau noted that many of these millions will be ineligible to vote because they have not satisfied state voting requirements, are confined in prisons or mental hospitals, or live in the District of Columbia and lack voting residence in any state.

The bureau gave state-by-state estimates based in part on preliminary results of the 1960 census.

The estimates for each state included Nebraska, 857,000.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

The florist magazine arrives with the mailman this morning. "It Is Not Too Early to Think of Your Fall Garden." That is the lead article.

It is not too early. It is too late.

I have given up gardening by the standard rules. I am now raising my plants by music.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Music to raise plants by." That is the name of the album I shall release shortly. With single-string hot licks on the old guitar by your master musician and gardener.

Professor C. T. N. Singh is head of the Department of Botany at Annamalai University in India.

Miss Stella Ponniah is an Indian lady who plays the veena. A kind of "Moonlight on the Ganges" mandolin.

"The Professor had been reading about new ideas in plant raising. Plants that had been raised by prayer. Plants that had been raised by laughter.

This is the newest thing in gardening. And apparently has it all over Plant-Gro.

People planted flowers and prayed over them. (I have done this myself. But I must be using the wrong text.)

In another room they had flowers who never even went to Sunday School.

The prayed-over flowers grew wonderfully.

Other people laughed around their plants—not at them, but WITH them.

These plants laughed it up. They grew a lot heartier than the sobersides plants who never had a smile cracked at them.

☆ ☆ ☆

The professor thought this over. He told Miss Ponniah "Hit a couple of notes on the veena."

Well, immediately the plants perked up—they were balsam seedlings and I imagine Miss Ponniah played them something appropriate. Like "Just a Baby's Prayer at Twilight."

They perked up and grew and grew. They grew 100 per cent better than plants who had no music at all.

To prove his point, the Professor gave a Mimosa Pudica 25 minutes a day of violin music. The Mimosa grew twice as fast as a Mimosa in the next room who, presumably, was reading comic books in silence.

☆ ☆ ☆

Not a blooming thing is blooming in my fall garden. But the other day I took the guitar out and gave them two choruses of "It Must Be Jelly 'Cause Jam Don't Shake Like That."

The poison oak is looking better already.

I gave the Virginia creeper a jivy version of "Old Pal Why Don't You Answer Me."

I gave the lemon trees "Aggravatin' Papa Don't You Try to Two-Time Me!"

I whipped the ivy into a frenzy with "I Got a Woman Crazy for Me, She's Funny That Way."

☆ ☆ ☆

It is a little early to tell what this is doing to our plant life, But I think their musical appreciation is improving.

"You Remind Me of My Mother." I think the strawberry plants we use for ground cover are reacting to that. At least one of them put out a late blossom.

None of this was covered in the florist magazine. "A good mulch will do wonders," said the magazine. A good four-piece combo would do even better.

Nixon Promises Move To Get Rid Of Farm Surplus

Peoria, Ill. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon promised Wednesday night an immediate move to "get the surplus off the farmer's back" if he marches to a presidential victory in November.

The Republican nominee for the White House said the problem of the farmers obviously are a keen political issue but "I believe we will make gains among the farmers over 1958."

That was a year when Republican strength skidded in the farm belt and the GOP suffered disastrous defeat in the congressional elections.

Nixon spoke up about farmers twice Wednesday, at Grand Forks, N.D., and again shortly after he flew into this central Illinois city surrounded by an agricultural area.

He didn't go into details in a speech at Grand Forks, at the University of North Dakota, or at a televised news conference at Peoria. Rather, he said, he is saving specific proposals for attacking the farm problem for major farm speeches at Guthrie Center, Iowa, Friday and in Sioux Falls, S.D., next week.

Nixon said at Grand Forks that "we may have to pay more now to get the surplus off the farmer's back." Asked at the Peoria news conference how much more and how long the payments would have to go on, Nixon said he expects to go into that in the Iowa talk and outline how he would hope to lift the surplus burden from the farmers.

"But in attacking the problem," the vice president said, "I do believe we should set a time in which we intend to deal with it."

He added that he didn't think that the determining factor should be how much it would cost in the next year to tackle the problem, since expenses might be heavier at the start. But in the long run, he said, it might cost more to leave the situation as it is.

In response to other questions, the vice president said that so far as he is concerned the time for a cut off on discussing the religious issue in the campaign is now.

But he said that his Roman Catholic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, is in a different position. He said he hoped Kennedy would see the matter as he does, with reference to a cut off, but that the decision is up to the Senator.

And, Nixon said, as far as he is concerned, the time also has arrived for a cut off on news conference questions about religion.

On other topics, the vice president said he is getting good reports on Illinois and his own impression is that "we have a good chance to take Illinois"—one of the big 6 Northern states with hefty electoral votes. Illinois has 27.

It would be difficult to say, Nixon said, whether his candidacy would be adversely affected should Russia launch a man into space before the election. But he said that whenever Russia seems to move ahead, it makes "people wonder if their own policies are at fault."

He voiced confidence that if Russia does get a man into space first this country won't be too long catching up.

Nixon said he doesn't believe there is going to be a recession or that an economic downturn will be a campaign issue. He conceded that any drastic change in economic condition will affect the campaign and an economic reversal hurts whoever represents the administration in power.

Nixon said he isn't bearish at all when he looks at economic indicators, particularly retail sales.

"The economy," he said, "is in a good, strong condition."

The vice president said his left knee, which became infected after a bump, is in fine shape. But, he told a questioner, he has his usual touch of hay fever and "you can notice it in my voice—and nose."

In Grand Forks, Nixon prodded state governors to put the new medical care for the elderly program into full effect "with the least possible delay."

Reply Given On Suicide

. . . Sen. Tews Asks About Kearney Incident

The Board of Control Wednesday answered 8 questions of Sen. David Tews of Norfolk concerning the July 3rd suicide hanging of Wesley Pirnie of the Boys' Training School at Kearney.

Tews, chairman of the Legislative Council Committee on Penal Institutions, asked the board in August for answers about Pirnie, 16, formerly of Gordon, who was found hanged in his room.

Tews was primarily concerned with handling of the case by the board and the institutions in which Pirnie had been placed.

Following are the questions of Tews with answers by Peterson:

Q. Why did the Lincoln State Hospital fail to accept the boy back after his escape?

A. The hospital did not accept him because it was the staff's opinion that he had received maximum benefit from that instutition and would not receive further help by remaining at the hospital.

Q. Why did Hastings State Hospital similarly refuse to take the boy back?

A. Opinion here was similar to that at the Lincoln State Hospital. Hastings' officials said the hospital could do no more for the boy after its previous psychiatric evaluation.

Q. Is escape a reason for a state hospital's refusing to continue custody of an inmate?

A. No. The only reason that they will discontinue care and treatment of a patient would be for the reason that the patient has received thorough psychiatric examinations and evaluations and that in the opinion of the staff he cannot receive any further benefit by continuing as a patient at the particular hospital.

Q. Are many inmates of institutions thus shuttled back and forth from one place to another?

A. No, not if one considers the total admissions to all of the board institutions any given yearly period. Some patients have been transferred but only upon recommendation of our trained technical personnel in the institutions that further evaluation and possible treatment should be started.

Q. Is the training school supposed to keep custody of mental cases?

A. Boys under the age of 18 are committed to the training school but they are supposed to have a sound mind at the time of their commitment. In cases where boys have some mental illness, they are examined by our psychiatric consultants. If he can be treated at the training school, they are placed under a therapy program. Otherwise he is transferred to one of the 4 mental institutions for care.

Q. What facilities are there for caring for mentally disturbed boys at the training school?

A. We have facilities for taking care of a very mild form of mental illness or a disturbed individual; but if the case is of a serious nature, then we do not have such facilities for their care at the training school.

Q. Were any precautions similar to jails, prisons, etc., taken to avoid the possibility of suicide?

A. This is a hard question to answer as we take care of a large number of boys and how one can decide which one would be a potential suicide would be rather difficult even with the help of professional personnel such as psychiatrists and psychologists.

In connection with the case of Pirnie, we cannot find where he had ever given any indication to anyone, either by his actions or verbally, that he ever contemplated this action while at the school or while being cared for at our mental health facilities.

Q. Did the boy—a diagnosed mental case—have all his clothing, including belt, in his room as it has been reported? If so, why?

A. The boy had his clothing, etc., in his room, as this boy was placed in this room at his own request because he did not want to be with the other boys at that time. There was no indication that he was a potentially violent person. He had shown no suicidal tendencies.

All of our personnel in all our institutions do take every precaution possible to see that no tragedy of any kind occurs.

Methodist Bishop Copeland Is Welcomed By Civic Leaders

"Laymen like you are increasingly alert to the fact that religion is both real and relevant."

These were the words of Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland, newly-appointed bishop to the Nebraska Conference of the Methodist Church, at a welcoming luncheon Wednesday. Lincoln business and professional men gave the luncheon in his honor at the University Club.

"Faith in God is something real; it is the exercise of one's confidence in God," Bishop Copeland said.

"One of the tragic things of America is our technological advances have gone far beyond our spiritual advances," he said.

"You are challenging the clergy today with the relevance of religion," he told the more than 100 men representing Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths who attended the luncheon, sponsored by the Methodist laymen of Lincoln.

"We must make religion apply to our needs today," he added.

In welcoming the new bishop, Dr. Vance Rogers, president of Wesleyan University, said 5 words describe the people of Lincoln; congeniality, consideration, conviction, confidence, and commitment.

He pointed out that Lincolnites have the "boldness to dream" in the "significant time in which we live."

Gov. Dwight Burney, in one of his first public appearances as governor, welcomed the new bishop to the state and extended an invitation to him to feel free to "call on us anytime."

"The only way to combat the force of a selfless state which is growing in the world is to have faith in our religion," Mayor "Pat" Boyles said in welcoming Bishop Copeland to the Capital City.

Chancellor Clifford A. Hardin of the University of Nebraska extended greetings to the new bishop on behalf of the 1,800 Methodist-affiliated students on the University campus.

R. E. Campbell, Lincoln businessman, welcomed the bishop on behalf of the business community.

Hair Raising News: Cuts Cost Hiked

Nebraska's male citizens—those with hair—are paying $1.75 for a haircut at many barbershops throughout the state.

A minimum price of $1.25 has been established in some 55-60 counties, according to State Barber Board Vice Chairman Fred Thieman of Lincoln.

Haircut prices are within the discretion of the board, he said, but the board takes into consideration the desires of the majority of barbers in a county before a minimum price is set.

Further hearings have been set in regard to remaining Nebraska counties in which the $1.25 minimum is not established.

Most Lincoln barbers are now charging $1.75 as are Omaha barbers, Thieman added. The price was increased from $1.50 at many Lincoln shops this week.

Cleaners Fight

Pescara, Italy (UPI) — The street cleaners in this central Italian town sparked a fist fight in the city council. The fight concerned a proposal to turn over the street cleaning to a private contractor. The Communists were against it, the Christian Democrats and right-wing politicians were for it.

HORSE TURNS CHARGER, BUT CAR IS LARGER

Cars have replaced horses, but old Dobbin still manages to get involved in traffic accidents.

Carol Zicafoose, 13, of 820 So. 30th, was riding a horse east on the south shoulder of U.S. Hwy. 34 just east of 84th and O when it turned onto the pavement.

The horse then shied at an eastbound car, which had swerved north to avoid hitting it, and collided with the car, Dep. Sheriff Bill Jones said.

Late Wednesday, Carol was reported in good condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital with a severe left leg cut.

Mrs. Leva Vader, 52, of Eagle, a passenger in the car driven by Harland J. Auker, 33, also of Eagle, was treated at the hospital for a chipped right elbow and right arm bruise and released.

The horse sustained minor bruises, Jones said, but Auker was not hurt.

Classes Open At Wesleyan; 1,050 Attend

Classes began Wednesday at Wesleyan University, with an estimated 1,050 students in attendance the first day.

The Rev. Dayton Olson was formally installed as campus chaplain at the first chapel service of the year. He replaces the Rev. L. E. Mattingly, who has become a fulltime staff member of the religion department.

Other activities of the week will include a Friday convocation at which President Vance D. Rogers and Dean Sam Dahl will review the campus rules and regulations for the students.

Saturday Wesleyan opens its football schedule, meeting Midland College at Fremont.

Mrs. John Anderson Named To Committee

The appointment of Mrs. John S. Anderson of Grand Island to the Nebraska Committee on Crippled Children was announced Wednesday by the governor's office.

John Beaver, administrative assistant to Gov. Dwight Burney, said Mrs. Anderson was appointed by the late Gov. Ralph Brooks, but her name was apparently left off the announced list by accident.

John Drake, 81, Dies While Changing Tire

John W. Drake of 2548 Q collapsed and died Wednesday morning while changing a tire on his car in front of his home.

Dep. Sheriff Harlan Kendle, acting coroner, said the 81-year-old man died from natural causes.

Lyndon Here Sept. 22 For NU Address

Democratic vice presidential nominee Sen. Lyndon Johnson will speak in Lincoln Sept. 22, instead of a day earlier.

The change results from a mixup in dates between the Johnson office and Nebraska Democratic offices in Omaha.

Johnson will also speak in Omaha Sept. 22 at a Chamber of Commerce public affairs luncheon.

In Lincoln, the Texan will address a University of Nebraska convocation at 3:15 p.m. in the Nebraska Student Union ballroom.

Johnson will also hold a press conference and a public reception at the Cornhusker Hotel following his University address.

Booth Fisheries Sued For $90,000

Damage suits totalling $90,000 were filed Wednesday in Lancaster District Court against the Booth Fisheries Co. of Lincoln.

The 3 women filing the suits name the company as the owner of a truck which was in collision with the car in which they were riding May 26, 1959, at 66th and Cornhusker.

Filing the suits were Mrs. Hattie Harrod of Odessa, Tex., Mrs. Kyle Donohue of Sun Valley, Calif., and Mrs. Mae Exton of Clinton, N.J. They were riding in a car driven by Dorothy Darling of Crete.

Nixon Top Choice In Northeast Poll

Norfolk (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon was the solid choice for president of a group of northeast Nebraskans who voted in a recent poll.

The poll was taken by Norfolk radio station WJAG among persons on a caravan to the State Fair which the station sponsors annually. More than 200 of the number were of voting age. Results were announced Wednesday.

The Republican presidential candidate received 56% of the votes, Democratic candidate John Kennedy 10% and 34% were undecided.

For the governorship the voting was divided 22% for Republican John Cooper, 13% for Democrat Frank Morrison and 65% undecided.

For Third District Congressman, 19% were for incumbent Democrat Lawrence Brock, 23% for Republican Ralph Beerman and 58% undecided.

The poll was taken before the death of Gov. Ralph Brooks. In the U.S. Senate race Republican Carl Curtis received 34%, Democrat Brooks 6% and 60% was undecided.

Big Business Boom After '65—Enders

Omaha (AP)—A finance forum was told here that the '60s won't really get started soaring, businesswise, until 1965.

John W. Enders, senior account executive for Lionel D. Edie & Company Inc., said the firm of industrial and investment consultants looks upon the 1955-64 period as one of slowdown and readjustment. He predicted the big boom will come after 1965.

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

When it comes to slam bidding it is doubtful that any pair is more proficient than Pietro Forquet and Guglielmo Siniscalco, the Italian stars who won the world team championship in 1957, 1958, and 1959.

The basic system they use is the Neapolitan Club. Most bids in this system are completely natural, but in some hands artificial bids are used to designate special types of hands or to impart specific information.

Here is an impressive example of the system at work, with an explanation of each bid as given to me by Forquet when I spoke to him in Turin.

One Club. This is an artificial bid showing at least 17 points in high cards. Partner must respond.

Two Clubs. An artificial response showing an ace and a king, or three kings.

Two Spades. A natural bid with at least five spades.

Three Spades. A natural response showing satisfactory trump support.

Four Clubs. Shows the ace of clubs and asks partner to identify his values.

Four Diamonds. Shows the ace of diamonds. (North can no longer have three kings, only one.)

Four Hearts. Shows the ace of hearts and seeks more information.

Five Clubs. Shows second round club control, either the king or a singleton.

Five Diamonds. Similarly, this shows second round diamond control.

Five Hearts. Second round heart control.

Six Hearts. The key bid. Spades were agreed upon previously as the eventual trump suit. The six heart bid has a special meaning, since it cannot be interpreted as a serious effort to play the hand in hearts.

It asks North about his trump support—how adequate it is. If North has the queen, or five trumps, he is being urged to bid seven.

Had South been interested in third round club control, he would have bid five no-trump instead of six hearts.

Seven Spades. Adequate trump support, partner.

Betrothal Announced

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walvoord of Firth make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elaine, of Lincoln, to William Biggs, son of Mrs. Boyd Biggs and the late Mr. Biggs.

The wedding is planned for Friday, Dec. 30, and the ceremony will take place in Firth.

The bride attended National Business Institute.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This isn't a love problem. It's more like a hate problem and the way my husband has been crabbing. I am 48 and he is 57. We've been married 31 years. We are both large people. I am 5 ft. 10 and weigh 198 pounds, but I am not clumsy. I'm a good dancer and carry my weight with grace and ease.

My husband keeps telling me I don't know how to get into a car. The only way I know how to get into a car is to put my head and shoulders in first, then set my feet on the floor and then bring the rest of me in. What's wrong with that? He says I am ruining his upholstery and wrecking his floor mat. What am I doing wrong, please?

BIG BUT GRACEFUL

DEAR "B" BUT "G": You should put your left foot in first, then place yourself squarely in the seat, and swing the rest of you in gracefully. I don't know what kind of a car you have to get into, but with some of these new ones, if you are a contortionist, it helps.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those "nosy" nurses who has worked for many years in a doctor's office. I also get numerous telephone calls from people who refuse to discuss their problem with anyone but the doctor. They are very foolish because all the information is written on their records and the nurse sees it anyway.

Hear's a sample of what goes on in our office:

Nurse: "Mrs. Smith called today."

Doctor: "What was her trouble?"

Nurse: "She refused to tell me. When I asked her, she hung up on me."

Doctor: "When she calls again, tell her YOU run the office. I only work here."

"ALSO NOSY" R. N.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Because I am the youngest of the family, I am faced with a rather embarrassing problem. Whenever my mother introduces me to people she hasn't seen for a while, she will say, ". . . and this is my baby!"

Please don't tell me to laugh it off. I am 44 years old.

BIG BABY

DEAR BABY: Where's your sense of humor? Your mother is fortunate to have her "44-year-old baby." And you are even more fortunate to have your mother.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO SOPHOMORE: Automobiles can be dangerous. It's not only his DRIVING you have to be careful of — it's his PARKING!

The wedding of Miss Ryan and Richard C. Brauns of Denver will be an event of Oct. 1.

A popular fall bride-elect is Miss Jeralyn Braasch whose marriage to John R. Pittman of Memphis, Tenn., will take place on Saturday, Oct. 15. The ceremony will be solemnized at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Miss Braasch was the incentive for a pre-nuptial courtesy on Saturday evening, Sept. 10 when Miss Charlotte Bleis and Miss Janice Kilpatrick entertained at a dessert supper. During the evening hours, the bride-to-be was presented with a miscellaneous shower by the 30 guests.

IN SUBURBIA

MEADOW LANE

Included among their new neighbors on Colony Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Conway and their three children. The Conway children include five year-old Mike and Denise, who is ten years old, who will be attending Meadow Lane School while four year-old Kathleen remains at home. Formerly residing in Lexington, the Conway family moved several weeks ago to 1049 Colony Lane.

Also among the many new residents in Meadow Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Lemme and their daughter, Diane, who is one year old. They moved recently from 4711 Calvert to 830 E. Avon Lane.

And no sooner had the Lemme family moved in than they had guests on Labor Day. Motoring to Lincoln from Omaha for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jacobs and their daughter, Laurie.

Moving day for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Egan and their six children was Saturday, Sept. 3, when they moved from 4603 Greenwood into the home at 7000 Y. The younger generation of the Egan family included Charles, Vicky, Steven, John, Terry, and Carol.

One more change for the Meadow Lane address book this ayem—Mr. and Mrs. Keith Barribo and their three children have moved into their home at 2757 W.

And moving into the former Barribo residence at 1145 W. Avon Lane a week ago were Mr. and Mrs. Rodney P. Vandeberg and their four month-old daughter, Pamela Sue. The Vandebergs, who moved to Lincoln six months ago from Kansas City, have been residing at 2430 A.

News from Mr. and Mrs. Norval Kiser tell us that they are the proud parents of a daughter, Patrice Renee, who was born on Friday, Sept. 9, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Patrice has four older sisters, Lori, Debby, Susan, and Becky.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Kiser of Central City are the paternal grandparents and the maternal grandmother is Mrs. Gertrude Kaminski of Omaha. Mrs. Kiser is the former Ruby Clason.

The second newcomer in the bassinet brigade in the suburb is Toni Marie Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neal, who made her premier appearance at Bryan Memorial Hospital on Friday, Sept. 2. Among Toni's admirers are her brother, Steven, and her sister, Sharon Denise.

The young lady's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Posey of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Neal of Oklahoma City, Okla. Mrs. Neal is the former Alice Posey.

One final name to add to the list of new families in Meadow Lane—that of Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Sloan and their three children, who moved Labor Day from 1304 No. 35th into the home at 941 W. Avon Lane. The Sloan children include ten year-old Patricia and eight year-old Margaret who attend Meadow Lane School, while four year old Nancy remains at home.

EASTBOROUGH

A look in our birthday book tells us that Stevie Mellecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Mellecker, celebrated his eighth birthday anniversary on Saturday, Sept. 10. Several of his young friends attended a movie downtown and then came to the Mellecker home for cake and ice cream to help Stevie celebrate.

Joining in the festivities were Donna and Mary Shilling, Sharon and John Hurley, and of course, Brooks, Scott, and Melinda Mellecker.

The welcome mat is out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. Rhine Dittenber and their daughters, seven year-old Deborah and Cathy, who is four years old. They moved from 5225 Normal into the home at 7200 Eastborough Lane last Friday.

Carey's Belt Wins, 2-1

Kansas City (AP) — Andy Carey hit a 9th inning tiebreaking home run Wednesday night that gave the cellar dwelling Kansas City Athletics a 2-1 victory and sweep of a 2-game series with the league-leading New York Yankees.

The defeat left the Yankees practically tied for first with the Baltimore Orioles, who won a 11-10 decision at Detroit. The New Yorkers, who have played 2 less games than Baltimore, lead by a single percentage point.

Carey's home run came off Art Ditmar, who had pitched on even terms with Ray Herbert through the first tight 8 and a half innings. The defeat was the 9th of the season for Ditmar who has won 14 in establishing himself as the Yankees most dependable hurler. The victory was No. 11 for Herbert who has lost 15.

Herbert and Ditmar pitched about as evenly as possible through the first 8 innings. Herbert gave up 6 hits and one run while Ditmar surrendered 7 blows and a single score.

Sime Says U.S. Had Passed Peak

Durham, N.C. (AP)—Sprinter Dave Sime of Duke returned from the Olympic Games Tuesday night and said most of the Olympic athletes from the United States had passed their peak by the time the Games started.

Sime finished second to Germany's Armin Hary in the 100-meter finals. Both men were clocked in the same time, .10:2. Sime also anchored the 400-meter relay team which won the event, but was disqualified.

Sime said it wasn't true that the U.S. squad laid down. "We did the best we could, but what many people don't realize is that the Europeans were just hitting their peak at this time of year while most of us had passed ours."

Yank Cagers Cop 4 Nation Crown

Paris (AP)—The United States Olympics champion basketball team Wednesday night swamped Uruguay, 100-58, to win a 4-nation tourney.

The Philippines took second place, Paris 3rd and Uruguay 4th in the 3-day round robin affair.

The South Americans started strongly Wednesday night, running up a 7-2 lead but the U.S. soon drew even at 7-all and led 47-28 at halftime.

Earlier, Paris edged the Philippines 84-80.

Grimace Now . . . But Smiles Later For Charles Lewis.

Nicklaus, Coe, Chapman Fall In National Amateur Upsets

Lewis, 19, Tumbles King, 5-3

. . . Field To 16

St. Louis (AP)— Chuck Lewis, skinny 19-year-old son of a golf pro, upset defending champion Jack Nicklaus and former champions Charlie Coe and Dick Chapman also were eliminated Wednesday as a youth-dominated storm of surprises hit the 3rd and 4th rounds of the National Amateur Golf Championship.

Lewis, so busy working in his spare time that he didn't have time to go out for his college golf team, routed Nicklaus 5 and 3 in an afternoon 4th round shocker after building a 6 up lead in the first 9 holes.

It came after Nicklaus, playing superb golf, had slashed 7 strokes off par at the 6,616-yard, par 35-36—71 St. Louis Country Club in winning a morning match, 6 and 5, from former NCAA champion Phil Rodgers of the Marines.

Coe, 2-time champion who lost to Nicklaus in last year's final, lost in the morning round to 24-year-old John Farquhar of Amarillo, Texas, 2 up. Chapman, the 1940 champ from Osterville, Mass., lost a 3rd round duel to 29-year-old Bill Harvey of Greensboro, N.C., 3 and 2.

Lewis, 5-11, 140-pound gas company employe from Little Rock and son of the pro at the Little Rock Country Club, was 7 under par for 30 holes when he took up his duel with Nicklaus. He smashed on from there, firing a 2-under-par 33 on the front nine against the bruiser from Columbus, Ohio, to take a 6-up lead. He lost the 10th and 12th to drop his advantage to 4 before closing out the match with a birdie 4 on the 500-yard, par 5 15th hole.

Nicklaus, who had 5 birdies and an eagle in his sizzling morning round, couldn't do anything right in the afternoon. Lewis sank a 4-foot putt for a birdie to win the 1st hole, won the 2nd with a par when Nicklaus' tee shot caught a trap, and went 3 up with a birdie 4 on the long 5th after reaching the green in 2 hefty pokes.

Nicklaus' putter then went sour and he 3-putted the 6th, 7th and 9th holes and fell 6 down when Lewis parred and won all 3.

For the round, Lewis was 1 under par while Nicklaus, after hitting the turn in 39 (8 strokes above his morning performance), finished 3 over par for the 15 holes the match lasted.

Lewis, whose full name is Charles Francis Lewis III, had a grin as wide as his winning margin when he walked off the 15th green.

"Golf sort of came naturally," he said. "My grandfather was a golf pro in Devonshire, England, and of course, my dad, is a pro too. I'm proud of that heritage, but I never intend to turn pro myself."

Now in public relations work, he said he was too busy to play golf in school when he attended Arkansas in 1958 and Memphis State in 1959.

The smashing upset of the 20-year-old defending champion who'll soon start his junior year at Ohio State, plus the 3rd round ousters of Chapman and Coe, left veteran Harvie Ward of San Francisco the only former champion in the last 16.

Ward, catching fire on the back nine in both matches, whipped Frank Arasin of Shamokin, Pa., 4 and 2, and Dick Sucher of Thiensville, Wis., 3 and 2 in gaining the 5th round.

He, Lewis and 14 others make up the surviving field which will move into another double round today to trim the list to 4 for the 36-hole semi-finals Friday. The finals, also over 36 holes, are scheduled Saturday.

Jennings Tabs Nebraska's Fall Football Drills His Best Ever

By Don Bryant

With the bulk of the preparations for the Texas opener Saturday completed Wednesday, Coach Bill Jennings tabbed the Nebraska Cornhuskers' fall camp "the best since I've been here."

Jennings said just about everything was better—"the condition of the practice fields . . . the kids were in pretty good shape right from the start . . . and the weather. . . ."

"We got an awful lot done," he said. "By comparison, based on what we've done in the past and what we wanted to accomplish this year, this definitely has been the best fall camp."

Starters Uncertain

The Husker coach said he wouldn't announce any starters before game tiime.

"We don't know exactly who we'll start because it will depend on the flip of the coin," he said. "If we receive we'll start some players who will not start if we kickoff. So a starting lineup will be settled by the flip."

However, it's likely that the No. 1 club will be tabbed from the top 22. This group includes:

Centers — Don Fricke and Mick Tingelhoff.

Right guards — Dick Kosier and Gary Toogood.

Right tackles — Ron McDole and Al Fischer.

Right ends— Don Purcell and Pat Salerno.

Quarterbacks—Pat Fischer and Ron Meade.

Right halfbacks — Clay White and Warren Powers.

Fullbacks— Thunder Thornton and Dallas Dyer.

Kicking Corps

Big Archie Cobb, sophomore tackle, is expected to do quite a bit of kicking for the Huskers this fall. He's been kicking off as well as punting in practice sessions.

Others kicking off will be Dyer and Meade.

Joining Cobb as punters will be end John Bond, end Don Purcell and quarterback Pat Fischer.

Dyer and Meade will handle any field goal attempts, Jennings said.

Footnotes

Wednesday afternoon the Huskers went through a short polishing session. They'll wind up with a limbering up practice at Lincoln High tonight . . . . . The traveling squad will leave Lincoln by chartered airliner Friday morning at 10 a.m., arriving in Austin, Tex., at 12:30 p.m. Headquarters will be at the Commodore Perry Hotel and a night practice is scheduled under the Austin lights Friday . . . The Huskers will return to Lincoln Sunday morning . . . Most of the passing this fall will be handled by the quarterbacks . . . Fullback Noel Martin is still on the doubtful list for the Texas game, although he's slated to make the trip.

—NU MADE DECISION—

Extra Point Club Sets $10,000 Goal

By Don Bryant

Nebraska football coach Bill Jennings Wednesday morning told more than 100 members of the Extra Point Club that their help was needed because of a "decision" made after his first season.

"We stood still that year (with a 1-9 record) and then the decision was made to go ahead," Jennings told the kickoff breakfast gathering.

"If you want to compete, you must go the scholarship road whether you want to or not. You simply can't just coach the boys who show up because no one else is."

The Extra Point Club has set a goal of $10,000 this year, according to president Lou Roper. Last year the group collected $9,000 to help defray the cost of operating the NU athletic program.

This year's campaign will run through the Minnesota game here on Sept. 24, Roper said.

Jennings also told the group that Pat Fischer almost became a quarterback in 1959.

"We gave serious thought to putting Tom Kramer at left half and Pat at quarterback," Bill said. "We think he's a fine athlete and we know he'll do a good job for us."

Fischer, along with tackle Ron McDole and center Don Fricke—they're the 1960 co-captains—were on hand for the dawn breakfast.

Fricke told the EPC boosters:

"We're like the team coming to bat in the first inning trailing, 10-0. We haven't been to bat yet—but we'll know a lot more after we play Texas."

Bob McNutt served as toastmaster for the affair.

3 LONGHORNS RECUPERATED

Austin, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Longhorns Wednesday welcomed back Howard Jackson and Emery Martindale, a pair of ailing football linemen.

Jackson, No. 2 center, has been battling the virus while Martindale, reserve right guard, has been recovering from a slight injury.

The Longhorns' top quarterback, Mike Cotten, was back in uniform Wednesday, but he's still recuperating from a pulled muscle. He did quite a bit of running by himself, but did no signal calling as the Steers spent 90 minutes on a drill designed to polish the offense.

BIRDS TIP TIGERS, 11-10

Detroit (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, fighting desperately to stay on the heels of the league-leading New York Yankees, rallied for 3 runs with 2 out in the 9th inning Wednesday and defeated the Detroit Tigers 11-10.

The Orioles, who blew an early 5-run lead and an 8-6 advantage late in the game, won it on a booming, 2-run triple to center by the slumping Brooks Robinson.

Dodgers' Williams Slows Pittsburgh Flag Drive, 5-2

. . . LAW FAILS AGAIN

Pittsburgh (AP)—Stan Williams stymied league-leading Pittsburgh on 7 hits and struck out 13 batters Wednesday night as Los Angeles downed the Pirates 5-2.

Maury Wills, with 3 singles, 3 runs scored and 2 stolen bases, and Wally Moon, with 2 hits and 3 runs batted in, paced the Dodgers' offensive attack. Wills was the first man on base each time Los Angeles scored.

Pittsburgh starter Vernon Law failed for the 3rd time to win his 20th game. Instead, he suffered his 8th setback. The Pirate right-hander lasted only 5 innings, giving up 4 runs on 5 hits.

The 2 runs off Williams came on Bill Mazeroski's 10th home run of the season with 2 out in the 8th inning. Smoky Burgess had beat out a high bounder to short before the blast.

Law retired the first 9 batters who faced him but then weakened and gave up a pair of runs each in the 4th and 5th innings.

Braves Batter Cubs, 10-2

Milwaukee (AP)— Four-run outbursts in the 2nd and 5th innings Wednesday night and Joey Jay's 6-hit pitching propelled the Milwaukee Braves to a 10-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night.

Henry Aaron's triple in the 2nd inning knocked in 3 of Milwaukee's runs. The other run of the inning was scored as Eddie Mathews drew a walk and forced in Jay.

In the 5th, Don Elston took over the pitching chores from Seth Morehead, who had relieved Chicago starter Don Cardwell.

Milwaukee's other 2 runs were scored in the 1st, one on Mathews' 37th homer of the year and a single scoring Aaron.

Unranked Smith Holds For Draw

Chicago (AP)—Unranked Jesse Smith of Chicago held Hammering Henry Hank of Detroit to a draw Wednesday night in a bruising 10-round bout in the Chicago Stadium.

Smith was ahead on points until the middle of the final round when a whistling left uppercut to the chin by Hank dropped him for a 9 count.

He pulled to his feet, wobbly, and was leaning on the ropes when the bell sounded.

Smith weighed 158½ pounds to 162 for Hank in the nationally televised bout.

U.S. Quartet Finishes 2nd, Snaps World 2-Mile Mark

London (AP) — The United States team bettered the world record for the 2-mile relay Wednesday with a time of 7 minutes, 19.4 seconds in the USA-British Empire track meet.

Actually, the Empire team finished first in 7:18 but officials said its time could not be considered because the runners were from 4 different countries although competing as the British Empire.

The listed world mark is 7:20.9 by California in May of 1958. Two of those runners, Jack Yerman and Jerry Stewart, ran on the U.S. foursome.

Other U.S. runners were Ernie Cunliffe of Claremont, Calif., and Tom Murphy of Brooklyn. The British runners were Tony Blue of Australia, George Kerr of the West Indies, Tom Farrell of England and Peter Snell of New Zealand. Snell won the 800-meter gold medal at the Rome Olympic Games last week.

The race was run a drizzle before a crowd of about 40,000.

Wilma Rudolph of Tennessee State, who sampered to 3 gold medals at the Rome Games, won the 100-yard dash in 10.6 seconds. The American record for the distance is 10.7, held since 1955 by Mae Faggs while Marjorie Matthew's world mark is 10.3. Miss Matthew is from Australia.

To shield her head from the rain, Miss Rudolph wore a white head band as she streaked through the gloom.

Herb Elliott, Australia's world record holder in the mile, was clocked in 3:58.6. He rain in a steady downpour. Dyrol Burleson of Cottage Grove, Ore., was 2nd, approximately 20 yards behind the winner.

Willie May again beat Olympic champion Lee Calhoun in the high hurdles, running 14.1. Keith Gardner of the West Indies and Nebraska was 3rd with 14.4.

Senators In 'Must' Win, Halt Sox, 6-1

Chicago (AP)—The Washington Senators, their hold on 4th place threatened, broke Chicago's 6-game winning streak Wednesday night with a 6-1 triumph behind southpaw Jack Kralick.

The victory enabled the Senators to hold their half game lead over the 5th place Cleveland Indians who romped past Boston, 11-7.

The loss was a serious blow to Chicago's pennant hopes and dropped the 3rd place White Sox 2 games behind 2nd place Baltimore which edged Detroit 11-10 in an afternoon slugfest.

Until they scored 3 times in the 6th, the Senators had to settle for a 2-run lead provided by Earl Battey's 13th homer with a man on in the second.

USGA Reveals Amateur Dates

St. Louis (AP) — The United States Golf Association Wednesday announced its 1962 championship amateur tournament will be played in Pinehurst, N.C., and its 1963 event at the Wakonda Club in Des Moines, Iowa.

The 1962 tournament will be played Sept. 17-22. The dates have not been set for the 1963 tournament.

Pebble Beach, Calif., was previously selected as site of the 1961 national amateur.

Madame Tussaud's Wants Wilma Rudolph In Wax

London, (AP) — Wilma Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., triple gold medal winner for the United States in the Olympics, is having trouble getting into Madame Tussaud's Wax Works Museum.

It seems that American athletic authorities apparently feared Wilma's amateur status might be tarnished in some manner by her appearance in wax.

The museum wanted to present her natural as life, in a sprinting pose.

"Miss Rudolph seemed to have no objections to being presented, but, naturally she sought permission," said James Catney, public affairs officer of the museum.

"Her chiefs said 'No' and one of them said he never had heard of Madame Tussaud's. But we have excellent photographs of this remarkable young woman, and all the dimensions, so we shall probably go ahead and model her anyway."

U.S. GALS AIM AT SWIM MARKS

London (AP)—Two American women were getting ready for their second attempt at history-making long distance swimming attempts.

Florence Chadwick, 42, of San Diego, expected to try to swim the Irish Sea from Ireland to Scotland—a feat no woman ever has accomplished.

Schofield Bucs' Insurance

Pittsburgh (AP)—If Dick Groat's broken left wrist fails to mend in time for the World Series there's a boy willing and able to handle the shortstop chores for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

He's John Richard (Ducky) Schofield, a fierce competitor with great speed and a strong arm and ability to cover a lot of ground. And he can swing from either side.

Since joining the Pirates in mid-1958 from St. Louis, he's been confined mostly to pinch hitting and pinch running duties. But with Groat on the injured list he's proved more than an adequate replacement.

"You don't like to see anyone get hurt, especially a guy like Dick Groat," said Schofield in an interview Wednesday. "He was having a great year. But I don't like sitting on the bench and this is my chance to prove it."

In 7 games since Groat was sidelined for the rest of the season, Schofield has hiked his batting average from .200 to .309 with 10 hits in 20 trips and batted in 3 runs.

His biggest moment was last Friday night. Batting righthanded he blasted a 2-run triple over the head of Richie Ashburn. That was his first extra base blow of the year and gave the Pirates a 4-3 decision over Chicago.

"But it doesn't make any difference which way I'm swinging," chortled Schofield. "I just like to hit."

Schofield followed his father's footsteps into pro ball. The elder Schofield also was an infielder but he never made the grade in the majors.

Dick, who inherited his nickname "Ducky" from his dad, had scouts on his trail through high school and was signed by the Cardinals for a $40,000 bonus.

As a bonus player he had to stay on the St. Louis roster for 2 years. So he rode the bench for 1953, 1954 and part of 1955, before he was farmed out to Omaha. He came up to the majors to stay late in 1956, and was with the Cards until traded to Pittsburgh.

During the off season he sells insurance. If the Pirates ever needed insurance at shortstop they found it in Dick Schofield.

Flaw In Flag Experiment

One major flaw developed in the experiment of using separate colored flags to designate on which team a penalty is being called during a football game.

The idea was used in the Crete game at Beatrice last week, with full cooperation of the coaches and the Lincoln crew of officials, George Hametz, Frank Sorenson and Jim Keil.

The officials threw a white flag to indicate a foul against Beatrice, and a red one for a penalty against Crete. Fans, players, coaches and press liked the idea—until the one bad moment arrived.

Sorenson threw his white flag near the scrimmage line when he detected Beatrice in an illegal use of hands infraction. The play continued with a downfield pass, Sorenson followed the ball, and then saw an obvious interference against Beatrice.

But his white flag was far upfield. The only thing to do was throw the red one, which meant Crete, when the penalty was against Beatrice.

To make matters worse, the incident occurred directly in front of the Crete rooting section. According to Hametz, "Crete went hysterical," at least until the penalty was stepped off against Beatrice.

Has Possibilities

Despite the incident, Hametz and many others feel the idea has some possibilities, although the veteran Lincoln official added:

"I don't think it will ever come to be."

But George also pointed out that the idea benefits the fans, and "you've got to give the fans something or they won't come, and then there wouldn't be any football."

Because incidents such as the one in the Beatrice game can easily occur, or the officials could simply shrow the wrong flag by mistake (Hametz said he almost did this at least once), complete cooperation of coaches, fans, etc., is necessary.

The idea is toughest on officials, particularly veterans, used to simply pulling out the kerchief and giving it a toss. It doesn't seem like too much to ask of the refs, but it may be, when you consider officials already have much to do and a great deal to remember during a game. They are already subject to much abuse, and the idea could simply offer another excuse for more shenannigans.

Hametz reported officials at the Eastern Nebraska Coaches and Officials Assn. meeting this week discussed the idea, and were divided in their opinions as to its merit. Most of the older officials were opposed.

But something to make the game more interesting to the fan is worth trying out thoroughly.

Few Surprises

There were few surprises in the first week of prep action. Most of the teams expected to be strong were just that.

Five of the 6 defending champions—Creighton Prep, Holdrege, David City St. Mary's, Lawrence and Fairfield—were impressive. Only 6-man kingpin Bladen ran into trouble, dropping its 8-man debut to Fairfield, 69-6.

Many of the teams expected to be questionmarks are still that way, particularly the 3 Lincoln outfits in action.

These answers will soon be coming.

Cards Move Up On Relief Pitching, Spencer's Homer

St. Louis (AP) — The 2nd place St. Louis Cardinals moved within 5½ games of the National League lead Wednesday night with a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds on Daryl Spencer's 2-run homer and relief from Bob Miller and Lindy McDaniel.

The Cards, who have 16 games left, gained on 1st place Pittsburgh as the Pirates lost their 2nd in a row, 5-2 to Los Angeles.

Spencer's home run, his 16th, was delivered when the Cards' lead was 4-3. It came with Ken Boyer aboard.

Vada Pinson hit his 20th round-tripper in the 9th for the Reds' final run.

Miller, who took over from starter Ray Sadecki with 2 runs in and the bases loaded in the 3rd, received credit for the victory, his 3rd against one loss.

McDaniel made his 60th appearance in relief in the 7th after singles by pinch-hitter Jerry Lynch and Frank Robsinson, sandwiched around an infield out, gave the Reds their 3rd run. He struck out Wally Post to end the inning.

Willie Skips Out, But Back To Club In Time

Phladelphia (AP) — Tom Sheehan, manager of the San Francisco Giants said Wednesday night centerfielder Willie Mays will not be fined since he reported back in time for the first game of a series against Philadelphia.

The fleet centerfielder belted 2 singles, stole a base and drove in the Giants' only run in a 5-1 loss.

Sheehan said that after the Pittsburgh game Tuesday night Mays had asked if he could go to New York and miss the contest with the Phillies to attend to personal business at his New Rochelle home.

Sheehan said he told Mays he could go but would have to be back in time for the game.

The Giants' manager said Mays left the clubhouse and muttered something which he did not hear.

Mays was reported to have said: "I'm going anyway," but he denied having any words with Sheehan.

"What would I do with 48 hours?" said Mays. "I don't need a leave. I'm playing baseball. I don't care who manages the club."

Both Sheehan and Mays said there were no hard feelings.

Sheehan said Mays made his request after Sam Jones had been granted a weekend leave to go to Monongah, W.Va.

Sheehan told Mays the cases were not the same—Jones, a pitcher, is not an everyday ballplayer; Mays is and is needed in the outfield because there is no one available to replace him.

Willie showed up shortly after the Giants arrived here by chartered plane and the team had checked in to its hotel.

"I surprised you, didn't I," he told baseball writers with the club. "I'm back. No other comment."

Moscow Lauds Soviet Teams

London (AP) —Moscow citizens Wednesday night acclaimed the Soviet victory at the Olympic Games at a meeting at Lenin Stadium at which athletes were welcomed home.

Moscow radio said the secretary of the Youth Central Committee made the welcoming speech. He said American leaders did the boasting but Soviet athletes went out and won the medals.

"A leader of the American sports delegation to the Olympics fell victim to his own confidence," the spokesman said. "He promised that if the American team were defeated he would eat his hat. Today I can only wish him a good appetite."

Musial May Reveal Plans

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday scheduled an important press conference for this morning, sparking speculation Stan Musial will announce his future plans at that time.

Many of Musial's friends have urged him to retire at the close of the season, but some contend he will be back again next year for his 19th full campaign with the Redbirds.

Musial himself would not comment. Neither would club officials.

Stan, now 39 and guaranteed a place in baseball's Hall of Fame as one of the National League's all-time greats, was batting .282 before Wednesday night's game with Cincinnati.

He has 16 homers and 59 runs batted in.

Platters' Harshbarger Is 1st Grid Player Of Week

Kern Harshbarger, 146-pound senior halfback, indicated he may be a big cog in what is hoped to be a resurgence of football at North Platte this year.

His efforts in the Platters' 26-0 swamping of Sidney earns Harshberger The Star's first "Football Player of the Week" award.

North Platte, which won only once last year and not at all the season before, has been due for better things. Harshbarger may help supply them.

The senior scored all 4 North Platte touchdowns. He tallied twice on runs of 7 and 13 yards, and took a pair of 43-yard scoring passes from Terry Discoe.

Harshbarger, and these other top performers, will receive a card from The Star:

Lincoln Southeast—Joe Pease's placements were never more valuable than in 14-12 win over Lincoln Northeast.

Superior—Larry McCord tallied touchdown and extra point and stopped Grand Island Catholic PAT try in 7-6 victory.

Lawrence—Howard Schroer was tops with TD runs of 50, 45 and 9 yards in rout of Davenport.

Johnson — Gary Schemmel scored touchdowns of 48, 5 and 4 from scrimmage, plus 40 on punt return, and passes for another. Passed for 112 yards and ran for 95 in beating Table Rock 39-0.

Cedar Rapids—Garlyn Settles tallied 5 touchdowns and 4 extra points in walloping Wahoo Catholic.

Kimball—Ed Stahls gained 141 yards rushing, and 19 points, in 20-6 win over Minatare.

DeWitt—Roy Smith opened the way he did last year—5 touchdowns in first game—to whip Ruskin, 44-0.

Decatur—Jon Brewer scored 25 of his team's points in 26-19 win over Walthill.

Officials Fine, Suspend Boxer

London (AP) — Brian London, former British heavyweight champion, was fined $2,800 Wednesday and suspended for 3 months by officials investigating a riot in the ring after his last fight.

Police had to quell a fist-swinging free-for-all inside the ring after London was beaten by Dick Richardson, Britain's European heavyweight champion, at Porthcawl, Wales, last month.

Stewards censured London for lack of control which "was detrimental to the best interests of boxing and has done great harm to the sport."

FAMOUS NAMES

Worcester, Mass. (AP)—Two famous baseball names appear on the Holy Cross freshman football roster this fall —Merullo and Hegan.

Lenny Merullo Jr., son of the former major league star infielder, and Jim Hegan Jr., son of the longtime Cleveland catcher, are leading halfback candidates for the Crusader Pups.

Merullo from Reading, Mass., and Hegan from Lakewood, Ohio, are baseball standouts like their dads.

Robin Hurls Phils Past Giants 5-1

Philadelphia (AP) — Robin Roberts became the first Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher to win 10 games this season when he defeated the San Francisco Giants 5-1 with 5 singles here Wednesday night at Connie Mack Stadium.

It was one of the finest performances of the 33-year-old Roberts' career. After the second inning, he held the Giants hitless through 6⅓ innings while retiring 19 batters in order.

Then Don Blasingame singled in the 9th inning and came in on Willie Mays' second hit.

Roberts struck out 7 and allowed one base on balls.

Cleveland's 7-Run Stint Scuttles Red Sox By 11-7

Cleveland (AP) — The Cleveland Indians came up with their biggest single-inning scoring splurge of the season Wednesday night — 7 runs in the 3rd inning — and went on to beat Boston 11-7.

Mike De La Hoz opened the Indians' rally with a home run, and after 2 outs Ken Aspromonte and Tito Francona doubled. Ted Wills then replaced reliever Jerry Casale and was greeted with a triple by Ty Cline, 21-year-out outfielder playing his first major league game. Cline got home on a wild pitch, and 2 runners were on base with walks when Vic Power hit his 8th home run of the year.

A 1st-inning home run by Francona was followed by singles by Cline, Woodie Held and Walt Bond and a sacrifice fly by De La Hoz. That got winning pitcher Barry Latman (6-5) off to a 3-0 lead.

Boston's attack included Vic Wertz's 19th homer with 2 on base in the 5th inning. Lou Clinton doubled home 2 runs in the 4th and singled home the Red Sox final run in the 8th.

Winter Baseball Bans Clarified

New York (AP) —Baseball commissioner Ford Frick said Wednesday there had been no outright ban on United States players competing in the Dominican Republic winter league this year but the "tendency is not to go."

Frick said he had been biding his time, waiting for the situation in the Dominican Republic to clarify. He said a definite word could be expected within the next 10 days.

U.S. players will not compete in Cuba this winter. However they are free to go to Puerto Rico, Venezuela or Panama with the usual restrictions.

MAUCH SIGNS PACT FOR '62

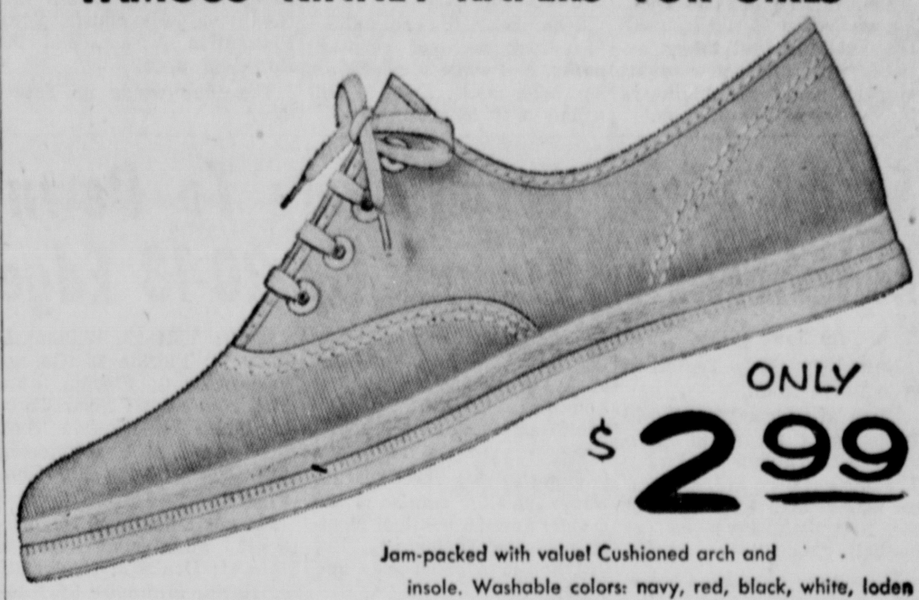

Philadelphia (AP) — Gene Mauch has been signed to a 1962 contract as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, John Quinn, general manager and vice president, announced.

Mauch previously agreed verbally to accept a two-year contract April 14 when he replaced Eddie Sawyer as manager at the start of the current season. That contract covers 1960 and 1961.

Bruins Sign Ace

Boston (AP)—The Boston Bruins Wednesday signed Orval Tessier, the highest scorer in minor league pro hockey last season, to a 1960-61 contract.

–Legislative Committee Tours Outdoor Facilities–

Game Commission Work Surveyed

Holdrege (AP) — The Legislative Council's Committee on Outdoor Recreation and Tourist Development began a tour of the Republican River Valley Wednesday to observe what the State Game Commission is doing, has done and may possibly do in the future.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha, chairman of the committee, said the first things noticed were the new signs erected along the highways by the Game Commission.

These are attractive, newly painted signs, he said, and they should make it possible for any traveler to find his way to one of the facilities.

Syas noted that although these signs are placed along highways, the responsibility for them was given to the Game Commission.

Syas said the committee also took note of roadside parks, and while a good start has been made, there is still a long way to go.

The game commission must acquire more sites, provide additional facilities and plant trees at existing roadside stops.

The committee tour includes stops at Medicine Creek Reservoir, Enders Reservoir, Trenton Reservoir, Republican City Dam and Reservoir, Alexandria State Recreation Area, and the Burchard area.

The tour winds up Saturday.

Scribe Picks Cornhuskers To Down Longhorns In Opener By 20-13 Edge

By Jack Clary

New York (AP) — Definition of a brave man:

"One who picked the World Series to be played in Baltimore and Pittsburgh, John Thomas to lose in the Olympic Games and the winners of the first Saturday's college football games."

There may have been a few who were successful in the first 2 categories, but it is an almost extinct breed that even would undertake such a hazardous, almost a foolish task, as to say who will win and lose this weekend on the nation's girdiron without any form chart.

But there's one in every crowd, so here goes:

Alabama 21, Georgia 7 — The Southeastern Conference gets its first shaking up because Bear Bryant has so many fine Alabama players back from last year's Liberty Bowl team and defending SEC champ Georgia has yet to find enough to fill all the holes left by graduation. You can watch on television.

Louisiana State 27, Texas A&M 13 — The Whites, Go's and Chinese Bandits are full of new faces this year, all trying to emulate their predecessors. The Aggies will be their first whipping boy.

Texas Christian 34, Kansas 7 — TCU has a big capable squad that has been helped by the loss of Kansas quarterback Lee Flachsbarth and is itching to get set for the Southwest Conference race.

Pitt 21, UCLA 19 — This one is going to rock the Coliseum worse than the demise of the Dodgers or the political bleatings of the Democrats. But Pitt has it in experience and depth.

Penn State 27, Boston U. 13 —The Nittany Lions have been having injury troubles in practice but nothing like the dother they will give the Terriers.

Maryland 24, West Virginia 17 —Tom Nugent, shaded from the sun by what he calls "my kind of team," is going to teach the Mountaineers sophomore dominated team a few early lessons.

Mississippi 21, Houston 0— Ole Miss liked the idea of being ranked a top contender for national honors and will acknowledge same over an ambitious Houston 11 that wants in the SEC.

Nebraska 20, Texas 13 — The Cornhuskers haven't changed too much from the bunch that beat Oklahoma and some other toughies last year, and they plan on picking up where they left off.

Other picks:

East: Army 34, Buffalo 20; Navy 28, Boston College 7.

South: VMI 23, William & Mary 14; Florida 36, George Washington 0; Florida State 21, Richmond 20; North Carolina State 14, Virginia Tech 13; Furman 21, Presbyterian 12; Georgia Tech 21, Kentucky 7.

Midwest: Southern Methodist 17, Missouri 6; Iowa State 41; Drake 7; Cincinnati 28, Hardin-Simmons 6; Kansas State 40, South Dakota State 0; Marquette 21, Villanova 7; Wichita 26, Denver 6; Tulsa 32, New Mexico State 6; Montana State 21, North Dakota 7.

Southwest: Arkansas 26, Oklahoma State 17; Texas Tech 19, West Texas State 0; Utah State 7, Texas Western 6.

Far West: Southern California 33, Oregon State 13; Tulane 20, California 18; Wyoming 26, Montana 6; Oregon 30, Idaho 10; Utah 35, Hawaii 12; Washington State 28, Stanford 26; Washington 34; College of Pacific 6.

Hurler Paces Win

Palatka, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mattiace, who pitched two no-hit games during the regular season, hurled the Palatka Redlegs to a 10-2 victory over Lakeland Tuesday night to win the Florida State League playoff.

COLTS WAIVER TWO PLAYERS

Baltimore (AP)— The Baltimore Colts Wednesday asked waivers on National Football League veteran halfback Joe Scudero and rookie Dan Callahan.

The action trimmed the roster of the defending NFL champions to 40, and two more players will have to be cut next week before the opening of the league season.

Scudero, a 5-year NFL veteran with the Washington Redskins, was trying for a comeback after serving last year as an assistant coach at Notre Dame. Scudero, 30, signed as a free agent by the Colts, played college ball at the University of San Francisco.

Callahan, a rookie linebacker and guard, had been claimed by the Colts just last week on waivers from the Cleveland Browns. He played at Wooster College.

Games Track Coach Proposes Barring Athletes From Second Shot At Olympics

London (AP)—Larry Snyder, of the U.S. track team, is in favor of a one-shot Olympics. Once you've competed, you've had it.

"It's my personal opinion that we should have a rule making a competitor ineligible once he has participated in the games."

"The games are getting cluttered up with too many old men hanging on through their reputations. When the games are over, I'd like to see every country wipe the slate clean and start building for the next games 4 years away."

Snyder is in London with the American Olympians who plan a brief European tour before returning home.

The Americans won the track phase of the recent games in Rome, capturing 12 gold medals compared with 11 for the Russians. But there were some disappointing performances — particularly by such world record holders as high-jumper John Thomas, hammer-heaver Harold Connolly and javelin man Bill Alley.

Some observers blamed the reversals on complacency and lack of dedication.

Snyder denied this, but he said if a one-shot restriction were placed on the Olympics "we would turn up with young, enthusiastic competitors and teams easier to control."

"We wouldn't have any prima donnas," he added. "Every athlete would be thrilled at the opportunity to compete."

The American team must be built almost from scratch for the Tokyo games in 1964. Veterans such as Connolly, shot-putters Bill Nieder and Parry O'Brien and hurdler Glenn Davis have said they won't compete again.

Snyder said the United States' performance would be improved if coaches were given more freedom in naming the competitors." "We should always keep the 3rd spot open for use at the coach's discretion," he said. "If a man who has qualified takes sick on the day he competes, we should be allowed to throw in a substitute."

Champ To Fight

Houston, Tex. (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown is to meet Mexico's Raymundo (Battling) Torres in a non-title fight here Oct. 6.

Atomic Sub Seadragon Blazes New Northwest Passage Through Arctic

Honolulu (UPI)—The commander of the Nuclear submarine USS Seadragon said its trail-blazing voyage through a new Northwest Passage opened the Arctic as "just another ocean" that could be traversed at will by such vessels.

Cmdr. George P. Steele II of San Francisco said the long-feared ice "never laid a glove on us." The sub came through with no damage and only one threat—from a killer whale.

The Seadragon's historic voyage through Arctic islands and ice fields never before visited by man was completed here under a shower of orchids in the warm waters of Pearl Harbor.

140-Year-Old Guide

Steele said his navigation was aided by a 140-year-old guide book written by Sir Edward Parry who tried and failed on the same route in 1819-1820 and for whom the Parry Channel used by the Seadragon was named.

The skipper was awarded the Navy's Legion of Merit for "exceptionally meritorious conduct" and the Seadragon and all its officers and enlisted men received the Navy's unit commendation. Rear Adm. Roy S. Benson, commander of the Pacific Fleet submarine force, made the awards immediately after the vessel arrived.

Two Navy helicopters dropped flowers on the television-eyed sub as she glided to the end of the 8,800-mile trip over a route that some day may become another commercial link between the Atlantic and Pacific.

Blare Of Whistles

The Seadragon, with 83 crew members and 4 scientists aboard, came down the Pearl Harbor channel flanked by two fireboats and a crashboat. As she turned to the dock all ships in the harbor blasted whistles, sirens and horns.

The submarine was draped with a huge paper lei. Crewmen were lined up at attention along the grey-black topside. A Marine band blared Anchors Aweigh, hula girls wriggled, and some 200 friends and relatives waved leis, threw kisses and shouted greetings.

Steele told newsmen 90% of the voyage was made submerged.

"I was scared to death at first when we got into the ice," he said, "but it was just like driving down the street. The detection instruments were a real victory for the Navy laboratory."

Divers had a holiday when the Seadragon surfaced in Baffin Bay, Steele said, but he had to restrict them when a big killer whale appeared and made several passes at the Seadragon before swimming off. Such whales will attack a man.

Steele said they surfaced 12 times, once in Baffin Bay and 11 times in polar waters. But he said the entire voyage could have been made under water.

Retired Admiral Indicted On Liquor Smuggling Charges

San Francisco (UPI) — The federal grand jury Wednesday indicted retired Rear Adm. William L. Erdmann on charges of smuggling an estimated $4,300 worth of liquor into the United States.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Donald Constine said the much-decorated veteran of 36 years in the service "admitted he had shipped home the liquor from Guam and he knew it was wrong to do so."

The smuggled liquor included scotch, bourbon, gin and assorted liquers, the indictment said.

Erdmann, 57, retired last April. His last post was Commander of U.S. Naval Forces in the Marianas Islands in the Pacific.

The 4-count indictment charges him with bringing 42 cases of untaxed liquor into the port of San Francisco aboard the aircraft carrier Bonhomme Richard in a 3,651-pound case labeled "household effects."

He faces possible penalties of 9 years in prison and $30,000 in fines if convicted on the felony and tax evasion charges.

A Navy spokesman said Erdmann, a 1924 graduate of the Naval Academy could lose his $1,000 a month retired pay and his commission if convicted on the felony charges.

San Francisco newspapers told last July 14 how federal agents had found a large cache of choice liquors at Erdmann's home in Kentfield, Calif.

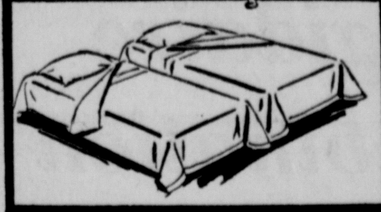

Customs agents said if the liquor, brought from overseas at tax free prices, had been bought at retail it would have cost about $4,300. The estimated price on Guam, where it apparently was bought, was $1,000.

Doescher Is New Resources Division Director

The Nebraska Resources Division announced Wednesday it has hired a new research director to be paid with funds appropriated by the recent special session of the Legislature.

The new director, Don L. Doescher of Beemer, will receive a salary of $5,300 a year. The special session appropriated $35,000 for use by the resources division to bring industry into the state.

A new secretary to Doescher was also hired.

In his report to the budget committee of the special session in August, Dave Osterhout, chief of the resources division, said a research department was a "vital part of any industrial development organization."

Osterhout said the department was needed to seek out and catalog existing facts and figures, to keep in touch with other research departments, both public and private, and to make its own studies pertaining to the resources and industrial climate of the state.

He said the department not only must gather and assemble this information, but also be able to present it in an effective form that can be developed into promotional information.

Doescher is a 1950 graduate of Beemer High School and a Korean War veteran. In June, 1959 he received his bachelor of science degree from the College of Agriculture at the University of Nebraska majoring in agriculture economics and has recently completed the work for a masters degree.

Doescher is a member of the Lutheran Church, Gamma Sigma Delta, Beta Sigma Psi, American Farm Economics Association, Western Farm Economics Association and the American Association of University Professors and the American Legion.

Buying Of Voting Machines Opposed

Omaha (AP) — Election Commissioner Sam Cooper is opposed to Douglas County buying voting machines.

"It would be a disservice to saddle the county with voting machines now when we stand on the threshold of having available electronic tallying devices which promise to relieve the tedious task of counting ballots by hand," he told the county board.

Robert Conrad Ends 20 Eventful Months At Statehouse

By Rodney W. Angove
Associated Press

Robert Conrad was cleaning out his statehouse desk Wednesday and closing out what must rate as one of the most eventful 20 months ever to befall a gubernatorial assistant.

As administrative aide to Gov. Ralph Brooks, Conrad helped effect the transfer from Republican to Democratic control of the executive department and shouldered unusual responsibilities accruing from the several illnesses of the governor, besides making his own excursion into competitive politics with a try at the Democratic nomination for governor last May.

The death in office Friday of his governor-boss terminated Conrad's statehouse role.

Looking back on the period, Conrad said Wednesday he had seen in his position "a tremendous opportunity to serve, and I tried to fulfill that opportunity, every minute and every hour of the day."

Worked With Brooks

Conrad, Genoa attorney who became executive secretary of the Nebraska Democratic party in 1958, worked closely with Brooks after his nomination and subsequently was tapped for a job as administrative assistant.

Before that, his only political jobs had been two terms as Nance County attorney and two terms on the Genoa School Board.

Although Conrad's hands were filled with state business from inauguration day on, it was Gov. Brooks first illness last year which first accented the assistant's role.

Conrad visited the hospital twice a day to make reports and receive instructions, and in all affairs of the governor's office was its only spokesman.

Office Hours Long

Office hours were long during those days, he recalled, "but with the aid of a willing staff, we kept abreast of it."

"I never thought we missed a stride, really," Conrad said of this period and subsequent periods when ill health limited the governor's activity.

Were the choice his, would he do it all over again, Conrad was asked.

"Yes I would, because in 20 months I have seen some things undertaken and the result of the leadership in this office . . . that I think helped fulfill the responsibility that each of us has to tomorrow.

"Each of us has a responsibility to tomorrow, and the program that came out of this office was geared to the fulfillment of that responsibility."

'No New Contracts'

Richard Lefferdink, office manager for the Lancaster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced that information has been received in his office that no new contracts will be accepted for the Conservation Reserve program for 1961, nor will extensions be granted for contracts already in effect.

STOCKS TUMBLE

New York (AP)—A late selling squall sent a hesitant stock market to a sharp loss Wednesday. Overall trading was moderate.

An estimated $1.50 billion was clipped from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the Associated Press average.

The market trod an extremely straight and narrow path in the early hours. Prices were very narrowly mixed. A downward trend developed slowly and persisted until a wave of discouraged selling hammered down prices near the close.

The ticker tape ran late for ten minutes while selling was at its heaviest. The tape was clear in the final four minutes but there was no particular rebound.

Brokers said the steady, day-to-day sequence of drab business news and the lack of confidence in forecasts set the stage for the selloff. It was prompted also, they said, by the list's proximity to the thrice-tested "triple botom," represented by about 600 in the Dow Jones industrial average.

The Dow industrials fell 6.10 to 605.69. The AP 60-stock average fell 1.10 to 215.90 with the industrials down 1.20, the rails down 1.50 and the utilities down .40.

Of 1,204 issues traded, 238 advanced and 707 declined. New highs for the year totaled 25 and new lows 65.

Volume was 2.53 million shares compared with 2.18 million Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally lower on volume of 970,000 shares, compared with 870,000 Tuesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed in quiet trading.

U.S. government bonds were unchanged to lower in slow transactions.

Bond volume rose to $3.81 million from $3.41 million Tuesday.

'60 Crops May Tie Record

Nebraska's crop production this year will equal the record 1958 output, based on Sept. 1 prospects, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said Wednesday.

The 1960 total is expected to be 54% above the 1947-49 average. It will exceed the big 1959 crop by 8%.

The division said near record crops of corn and milo and high yields on most crops all are factors in the large harvest.

Corn production has been forecast at 347 million bushels, only slightly below the 1959 record of 351 million.

The division estimated the sorghum grain crop at 77½ million bushels, close to the record 77,952,000 produced in 1958.

The division said the near record crops of corn and sorghum, along with above average crops of oats and barley, place the total tonnage of feed grains in the state at a new peak production. The total of 13 million tons in prospect would be 4% larger than the previous high tonnage produced in 1959.

It exceeds the 10-year average production of the 4 feed grains by 54%.

This year's oats crop of nearly 39 million bushels turned out "surprisingly well," the division noted. The yield was the largest since 1872.

This year's soybean production was estimated at 4,480,000 bushels, 15% above last year's crop and the second largest on record.

Sugar beet production is expected to be 1,156,000 tons with a yield of 17 tons per acre.

The dry bean crop was forecast at 1,088,000 bags, down slightly from last year.

Late summer potatoes are expected to reach 518,000 hundredweight with the fall crop at 1,726,000—both well below production last year and the average production.

Hearing Set On Road Vacation

The County Board will hold a public hearing Oct. 4 on a proposal to vacate a county road between O and P in about the 1000 block on West O.

The Lincoln Equipment Co. of 828 West O has requested the action. It owns land on either side of the road and wants to use the road space for expansion purposes.

If the board vacates the road the equipment company would pay for construction of an alternate road about 75 feet to the east of the present one. It would connect O and P.

Interior Post Given Abbott

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower gave a recess appointment to George W. Abbott as assistant secretary of the interior.

Abbott, who is now solicitor of the department, would replace Roger C. Ernst, whose resignation was accepted by the President.

The chief executive named Theodore F. Stevens, now legislative assistant to Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, to move into the solicitor's job vacated by Abbott.

Ernst gave "overriding personal considerations" as the reasons for his resignation in a letter to Eisenhower. The President accepted it, effective Thursday and praised Ernst's service in public land management duties.

Abbott, 37, of Grand Island, Neb., is a Republican and has served as solicitor since October, 1958.

Eisenhower also appointed Abbott to be a member of the Alaska International Rail and Highway Commission, a job also held by Ernst.

Royal Welcome Set For Nixons

Omaha (AP)—Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon will be welcomed with a band, official greetings, bunting and decorations when they arrive in Omaha Friday, even though they are expected at 12:30 a.m.

Big colored photographs of the Republican presidential candidate will line the road to the airport and be lit by large railroad flares.

The Vice President and Mrs. Nixon will go directly to the hotel where they will remain overnight. Nixon will speak the following morning at the Civic Auditorium breakfast.

Eastern Visitor Killed, Nebraska Girls Are Hurt

Phillipsburg, Kan. (UPI)—Mrs. Phyllis Ann Polovitch, 18, of Falls Church, Va., was killed when a car driven by her husband went out of control and overturned on a county road north of here.

Mrs. Polovitch was thrown out of the vehicle and died instantly, authorities said.

The victim's sister, Darlene Kennedy, 16, of Republican City, Neb., and a companion, Elsie Miller, 17, also of Republican City, were taken to an Alma, Neb., hospital with minor injuries. Her husband was not hurt in the accident.

The 4 were on their way to visit Mrs. Polovitch's father in Republican City.

Wayne State Getting New Food Service Building

A new food service building for Wayne State Teachers College, pictured in the architect's sketch shown above, will be under construction before the end of the year. The State Normal Board has announced bids will be opened early in November with construction to begin immediately after the awarding of contracts. Completion is expected by September, 1961. The new building will include two dining rooms with total capacity of 750, plus two small private dining rooms.

Finigan Says 1961-63 Ag Budget To Be 12% Under The Current Biennium

By Betty Person

State Agricultural Director Pearle Finigan announced Wednesday night that the Department of Agriculture budget request for the 1961-63 biennium will be an average of 12% under the amount appropriated for the present biennium.

The appropriation request from the state's tax-supported general fund will be $813,376 for 1961-63 compared with $990,499 appropriated from this source for the current biennium.

The appropriation request from licenses, fees and cash funds for the coming biennium will be $2,333,626, compared with $2,882,526 appropriated from cash funds during 1959-61, a reduction of slightly more than 12%.

Finigan said the budget cut has been made possible by the consolidation of some inspection jobs, as well as general cutting of expenses, plus the elimination of some personnel.

"Through efforts to avoid duplication and putting in some new methods, we've been able to realize this reduction," he said.

All general fund requests for the next biennium will be under the appropriations for the current biennium except those asked for the Division of Nebraska Resources and the Bureau of Agriculture Statistics.

Expanded Program

Finigan said the expanded program devised by Resources Division Chief David Osterhout to step up the state's efforts to attract industry, outlined during the special session of the Legislature called by the late Gov. Ralph Brooks, is in the next budget request.

The program calls for an additional $100,000 for each year of the biennium making a total budget request of $340,000, compared with $137,000 appropriated for the current biennium.

"It's a good and worthwhile program which will bring great benefits to Nebraska," Finigan said.

Bureau Request

An increase of $3,500 will be requested for the Agriculture Statistics Bureau as a result of an expanded federal program. The federal government provides participating funds for the state in this program.

Total budget request for this bureau will be $45,000, compared with an appropriation of $41,638 this biennium.

The largest cut in general fund requests is in the Cigarette Tax Division, Finigan said, where $59,500 will be asked for 1961-63, compared with $97,453 appropriated in 1959-61.

A reduction of about 22% is scheduled for the Weed and Seed Division with the next biennial request set at $43,803, compared with $65,533 appropriated this biennium.

A total of $417,900 will be requested from the general fund for the Bureau of Animal Industry, compared with the current appropriation of $529,966, a reduction of approximately 25%.

Neither of these figures includes the $100,000 set aside each biennium for emergency animal disease control, and which is being requested for re-appropriation, Finigan said.

Airplane Smacks Hangar

. . . ONE KILLED

Dallas, Tex. (UPI) — A Braniff International Airways DC7C plane that 7 mechanics were taxiing around the side of a hangar wheeled suddenly Wednesday, and with all 4 engines roaring, crashed into a hangar. The crash killed one man and injured 5 others.

The crash also crumpled the nose of the plane back to the beginning of the passengers' compartment and started a fire that firemen were able to put out before it spread to gasoline tanks.

The victim was Elmer Tiffany. Three of the mechanics managed to get out shortly after the plane crashed into the hangar, running over a Volkswagen bus en route. But 4 were trapped, among them Tiffany.

The other injured were D. M. Bellows, B. W. Clark, R. E. Fitzpatrick, James E. Jordan and R. R. Rogers. W. A. Gruneberg escaped injury.

Trapped

Gruenberg, Bellows and Rogers were the other 3 trapped. It was almost an hour and a half before other mechanics could cut into the side of the plane and get them out.

One mechanic suggested that a brake failure, causing a brake to lock or fail to hold, was responsible for the crash.

The plane had received a routine inspection in the hanger and the mechanics were taking it around the side of the hangar along an apron about 60 feet from the building to the "runup area" so they could run the engines at high speed.

There's An Easy Way To End It All

LINCOLN, Nebr.—Mrs. Rosalie Corder, 3542 Vine, says: "I had tried everything for dandruff and itchy scalp. Finally I got Baker's Hair Tonic, and it is the only thing I have been able to find that would really do the work. It sure knocks out dandruff and itchy scalp in a hurry." It's so easy and pleasant to use. Not messy or greasy like most so-called dandruff remedies. Use it any time, anywhere. No Federal excise tax on Baker's Hair Tonic, because it's a specific for dandruff. If dandruff and itchy scalp is your problem, Baker's is "the easy way to end it all." Satisfaction, or money back. Reds Halt Airplanes To Congo

Leopoldville, The Congo (AP)—Five Russian transport planes being flown here to assist in Premier Patrice Lumumba's military adventures have turned back toward the Soviet Union.

The planes would have increased the size of the air fleet furnished by Moscow to 16. Presumably, the closing of the Congo's airports by the United Nations persuaded Moscow it was futile to add to the grounded Ilyushin planes supplied to Lumumba.

The airports now have been reopened but the United Nations controls plane movements and prevents flights that might contribute to the civil strife unleashed by Lumumba.

The Russian planes were being flown to the Congo in short hops from the Soviet Union. It is not known just where they were turned back but they apparently were not far from the Congo when the airports were closed.

Ten other Ilyushins had been operating in the Congo, flying Congolese troops and supplies into Kasai Province where hundreds were killed and scores of villages burned in a short but fierce outbreak of fighting. Another in Congo service is Lumumba's private plane.

The turnabout of the 5 planes was disclosed by Congolese officials well acquainted with the aid being furnished by the Soviet Union.

County Agrees To Participate In Scholarship Fund

The County Board has reversed its stand on participating in the Katie Darby scholarship fund.

The commissioners, meeting is the Board of Public Welfare, decided that Lancaster County will join in the program after all. Earlier they had said they believed the costs of administering the program were too high.

James Cox of the Malone Community Center had asked the commissioners to review their stand. He said the scholarships, which are available to needy youths through the State Dept. of Child Welfare, could be put to good use in this county. Several other counties are participating in the program, he said.

Gaylen Holmes Gets $500 Elks Training Grant

Gaylen D. Holmes, 4527 Baldwin Ave., has been awarded a $500 grant from the Elks National Foundation for training in cerebral palsy therapy.

Holmes, whose application was sponsored by Lincoln Elks Lodge, is enrolled in the Hermann School of Physical Therapy in Houston, Tex.

The grant was one of 40 announced by the Foundation under its program to relieve a shortage of trained therapists for the rehabilitation of handicapped persons. Nearly 1,000 such grants have been made to date.

Elliott School Starts Monday For Half-Days

Elliott Elementary School, 225 So. 25th, will open with half-day sessions Monday, Dr. Steven N. Watkins, Superintendent of Lincoln Public Schools, announced Wednesday.

All pupils who will attend Elliott in grades one through 6 will register between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Thursday or between 9 a.m. and 12 noon Friday at the school. Kindergarteners will register Monday.

As pupils register they will be told whether they will attend school in the morning or afternoon. Classes will be held only in the south half of the building until further notice.

As long as school is held half-days, the lunch program will not be held, the superintendent's office said.

Elliott school did not open with the other Lincoln Public Schools last Monday due to a hazardous chimney, which is being demolished, at the north end of the building.
